NEW YORK LIFE OUT $300,000 IN A JOINT VENTURE

So Vice President Perkins Testifies When Placed on Rack.

THIS AN EXCEPTION

Business With Morgan Company Amounted to $39,000,000 With Profits of $784,000.

PRIVATE LOANS ARE MADE

One is to President of Metropolitan Life, Who Now Owes the New York Life $50,000—Agency Methods Are Gone Into.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—George W. Perkins, vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was on the witness stand before the special legislative committee probing insurance companies' methods, during the greater part of today's session. When an adjournment was taken he was still on the stand with a number of questions pending, to reply to which he asked permission to look up the records and submit transcriptions.

There was nothing of a sensational character in the testimony today, the only development of moment being the witness' disclosure in the New Orleans traction syndicate in which the company sustained a loss of over $300,000.

Edmund V. Randolph, treasurer of the company, had been questioned rather sharply regarding this transaction when he was on the stand last week. Today the matter was brought up when Counsel Hughes attempted to probe the collateral loan account. The bonds of the New Orleans Traction Company had been bought from the New York Security & Trust Company at 85 and were subsequently sold at 75. Mr. Perkins testified they were sold on December 31, 1903, to Fanshawe & Co., for $937,500. Mr. Hughes found under date of January 5, 1905, a loan was made against these bonds. This Mr. Perkins said he would have to look up, and the question was dropped for the present.

Private Loan Raked Up.

It was brought out that John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was carrying a running loan with the New York Life of $50,000 at 1½ per cent interest. Mr. Perkins did not know whether this matter came before the finance committee and would also look that up.

Witness could not explain why, after the New York Life had bought $4,000,000 worth of bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co., $2,000,000 worth should be sold back to that firm at the same price within two months and no minutes of the finance committee could be found to explain it.

The transaction in navigation syndicate bonds of December 31, 1903, when Mr. Perkins, for the New York Life, sold to J. P. Morgan & Co., $800,000, in these bonds, came up again when the warrant for the check of $800,266 was produced. These bonds were bought back by the New York Life two days later and the $266, Mr. Perkins testified, was for the adjustment of interest. Mr. Perkins would not acknowledge the transaction was a loan.

Dealings With Morgan.

The total dealings of the company with the Morgan firm amounted to $39,286,075 with a profit of $784,768.19. The manner of the company's income was for the present dropped, and the way of spending the money was probed. The agency system of the company was described and at this point Vice President A. Buckner, who has charge of the agents, was called. He stated that the total salaries of agency inspectors were $126,000 annually. Agency directors get an average annual salary of

FIVE KILLED; EIGHT HURT IN A WRECK

Passenger Train Collides With a Pay Train on a Curve Near Harrisburg.

CHECKS ARE SCATTERED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—Five men were killed and eight others seriously injured in a collision between a pay train and a combination passenger and milk train on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg & Pittsburgh branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Roushs curve, near Mount Holly Springs this afternoon. None of the passengers among whom were three women, was injured.

The dead are:

EPHRAIM M'CLEARY, engineer of milk train, 1855 Vernon street, Harrisburg.

C. J. SHEARER, fireman of milk train, 1411 Swatara street, Harrisburg.

JOHN HILL, fireman of pay train, 618 South Tenth street, Reading.

EDWARD LAUCHS, paymaster's clerk, Reading.

THOMAS MARION, conductor of pay train, Pottsville.

Hill died on the way to the Harrisburg hospital, the other four were killed outright.

The injured: John E. Amole, D. B. Zellers, Alfred Hawn, Isaac McHose, Robert Richwine, George O. Sarvis, John Miller and Harry Bomberger.

The pay train, consisting of a locomotive and one coach was going west to pay the men along the division and was being piloted by Trainmaster Sarvis. The combination train, composed of locomotive, combination coach and two passenger coaches was coming east. The two trains ran together on the curve, which is a sharp one and is flanked by a heavy clump of trees.

Amole jumped from his engine and landed at the foot of a 25 foot embankment, McCleary was found on his engine with the whistle cord in his hand, it having been pulled clear off the machine and all the brakes on the train set. The pay car contained about $50,000 in checks which were scattered about the tracks. The checks were picked up by trainmen and turned over to John W. Wetzel, attorney for the company at Carlisle.

Officials of the company here say the accident was probably due to a misunderstanding of orders, but the exact cause will not be known until the company makes its investigation.

GREAT AUTOMOBILES CRASH TOGETHER ON THE BOULEVARD

Oswald H. Werner Is Thrown from Car and Receives Injuries Which Necessitate His Removal to Hospital—Chauffeur Saves Disaster.

Seven thousand dollars' worth of automobiles came together on the Grant boulevard, near Thirty-third street, shortly before 5 o'clock last evening. The impact was tremendous, but the results would have been far more disastrous but for the quick thinking and good judgment on the part of a chauffeur. Seeing that his machine was going to be sideswiped, he changed its course and brought the two together head-on. In one car was Oswald H. Werner, aged 70, of 830 North Highland avenue, and his chauffeur, Herbert Tinker. In the other was J. Hollis Steen, son of Charles Steen of 126 Dithridge street. Mr. Werner, when the collision occurred, was thrown clear over both machines and landed on the boulevard. He was somewhat scratched and bruised, but suffered most from shock. He was taken to the West Penn hospital. The others escaped with comparatively little injury.

Mr. Werner was being taken to his home in his 30-horse power Pierce arrow car. Young Steen was coming to the city in his father's 12-horse power touring car. The boulevard was wet at the head of Thirty-third street and Steen's machine started to "skid." Steen lost control and it started across the boulevard. Chauffeur Tinker, realizing there was no way of avoiding an accident, and in order to save his machine and occupants, turned into Steen's car and threw on the brakes.

The engines of Mr. Werner's car were totally wrecked and the front part of the machine was smashed. Steen's car was rendered useless. Both machines had to be towed to the barns. The owners were acquainted with each other and the father of young Steen went to the hospital as soon as he learned of the accident. At Mr. Werner's home it was learned that he was not injured internally from his fall.

"NOT A WORD OF TRUTH IN IT;" EMPHATIC DENIAL BY PENROSE

United States Senator Declares Candidate Castle's Harrisburg Statement Was Without Foundation. Bank President Sustains Him.

"There is not a word of truth in it."

This is the emphatic denial of United States Senator Boies Penrose to the charges made by Attorney Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Castle, who is Prohibition candidate for supreme court judge, made a political speech in Harrisburg. He said a Western Pennsylvania bank with which he was connected as director and counsel was compelled to loan John I. Shaw of Pittsburgh and Senator Penrose $10,000 to secure a $20,000 deposit of state funds, and that the bank had trouble in recovering the loan from Mr. Shaw.

Senator Penrose was in Bellefonte yesterday attending the grangers' picnic. When asked as to the truth of Mr. Castle's statement he replied that it was purely a fabric of the man who uttered it. When asked for a statement, the senator replied:

"If I would undertake to deny all the false stories told and circulated about me I would have no time for anything else."

As the senator turned to walk away he vehemently declared:

"There's not a word of truth in the story, and that is all there is about it."

Mr. Castle returned to Pittsburgh yesterday and reiterated his statements of the evening before. He refused to give the name of the bank making the loan unless Senator Penrose or Mr. Shaw denied his story. Mr. Castle's residence was called up at 10:30 o'clock last night to inform him that the senator emphatically denied his statement, but the attorney was asleep and could not be disturbed.

Mr. Castle stated in his speech that after entering suit against Mr. Shaw the loan was repaid by the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny. This was denied by William Bradberry, vice president and a director of the Enterprise, who was positive his institution never had such a transaction.

Mr. Castle said yesterday that he had nothing against the Enterprise National bank and did not care to discuss that feature of the affair any further, other than to say he believed he could show Mr. Bradberry where he was wrong, and could support his statement by court records and the records of the bank.

ADVISERS PREVAIL ON MR. ROOSEVELT TO GO CAUTIOUSLY

Veil of Official Secrecy Hangs Over Conference on Insurance Money.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 21.—Extraordinary precautions were taken this morning to retain the veil of official secrecy over the important conference held at the president's home last night. Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and Joseph M. Choate were driven this morning over a road that doesn't enter Oyster Bay to Syosset, a station on the Wading River branch of the Long Island railroad, five miles from here. There was a train leaving Oster Bay at the same hour, but by driving through the woods to the other line the visitors could escape an army of expectant correspondents. The president did not give out the results of last night's conference.

That this conference of the administration's foremost advisers was called to discuss the insurance situation, as it relates to national politics, there is no doubt whatever. President Roosevelt has been working all summer on the question of the federal control of insurance. Its constitutionality has been seriously questioned, and the president has sought more light. But the disclosures made by the president of the New York Life Insurance Company of the policy-holders' money subscribed to Mr. Roosevelt's last campaign brought the subject to a crisis.

There is little doubt that President Roosevelt proposed to have the $48,000 given by the New York Life Insurance Company to his campaign fund returned. That the conferees agreed with the president in principle is generally believed, though his advisers prevailed upon him to wait. That is apparently the situation tonight.

A SIX-YEAR-OLD LAD IS TOO STRENUOUS AT JIU-JITSU GAME

Puts His 9-Year-Old Opponent Down and Out With a Dislocated Elbow.

That jiu-jitsu cannot become acclimated to the South Side was demonstrated last night on the streets of that district when a 9-year-old and 6-year-old exponent gave a short and convincing exhibition which terminated after the 9-year-old participant was taken to the South Side hospital.

Enthused with the jiu-jitsu exhibition, which was held in a hall on the South Side last night, Norman Morrison, aged 9, of 1322 Carson street, and Raymond Decher, aged 6, of 200 Sarah street, held a contest at South Twentieth and Sarah streets for the benefit of a crowd of admiring friends. Morrison secured the first fall after several moments of fierce struggling. Decher got the second and fianl fall.

Morrison failed to respond at the call of the referee, and at this point a policeman appeared upon the scene. He carried Morrison to the South Side hospital, where it was found that his elbow was dislocated.

"It was a case of love at first sight," said Hogan today. He has only one eye, but he said he knew Miss Fitzgerald was his affinity as soon as he saw her. Miss Fitzgerald weighs only 100 pounds.

REVENUE CUTTER WATCHES THE PIRATE FISHERMEN

ERIE, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The United States revenue cutter Morrell has been in the harbor during the last two days, ostensibly making a visit to inspect lifesaving station and government property here, but it is believed the officers are getting the names of the fishermen and tugs that are going over the international boundary line to fish in Canadian waters.

BEEF PACKERS PLEAD GUILTY AND PAY FINE

Jail Sentence Waived Because of the Illness of One Defendant.

ASSESSMENTS TOTAL $25,000

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Four officials of the firm of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, packers, were fined $25,000 and costs today by Judge J. Otis Humphrey of the United States district court after they had entered pleas of guilty to indictments charging them with conspiracy to accept rebates from railroads in violation of the Elkins law.

There was consequent consternation among the other packers who are under indictment for conspiracy in restraint of trade, and among railroad officials—among the packers because they foresaw the possibility of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company officials turning state's evidence against them in the conspiracy trial that is to come, and among the railroad men because of the admission of the packers that they had accepted rebates from several companies, opening up possibilities of trouble for them for violating a court injunction which prohibits them from giving rebates.

The defendants were Samuel Weil of New York, vice president; B. S. Cusey, traffic manager; Vance D. Skipworth and Chess E. Todd, assistant traffic managers. Mr. Weil was fined $10,000; the other three $5,000 each.

With the entering of the plea the declaration was made that unless at least one of the cases is immediately disposed of the life of Samuel Weil is in jeopardy. He is said to be a nervous wreck and fears were entertained for his life if he had been allowed to continue under the stigma of an indictment. The plea was entered, it is declared, after a complete understanding had been reached between counsel for the defendants and Attorney General Moody. While in Chicago the attorney general was apprised of the conditions of Vice President Weil, and, it is said, agreed to the entry of a plea of guilty with the understanding that the jail provision of the law under which the indictment was returned should be waived and merely a fine imposed. The same concession was made in the case of the other three defendants.

OPPOSING PRINCE CHARLES.

Newspapers Demand That Norway Be Given Opportunity to Choose Between Monarchy and Republic.

KARLSTAD, SWEDEN, Sept. 21.—Several Norwegian newspapers are opposing an offer of the throne to Prince Charles of Denmark. They demand that the people of Norway be given an opportunity to express their choice between a monarchy and a republic.

The Swedish and Norwegian commissioners met in joint conference this evening and adjourned until tomorrow. It is understood that the Swedish demands that the transit trade through both countries shall be secured against unjustifiable obstruction and for the right of pasturing reindeer belonging to Swedish laplanders in North Norway have been amicably settled, but that the question of the demolition of the fortifications still remains open.

ENGINES ORDERED FOR CANAL.

Contract Awarded by Commission for 120 Locomotives to Be Sent to Panama.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—An order was placed today by the Panama canal commission with the American Locomotive works of New York for 120 locomotives. This is said to be one of the largest sales of the year and aside from its new steamships is the largest purchase made by the commission.

A hundred of the locomotives are of the largest type of switch engines, to be used in pulling dirt from the excavating machinery on the canal. The other 20 are road or freight engines equipped with the latest improvements. The deliveries are to begin in December and to be completed by June.

DALZELL IS NOT IN FAVOR OF REVISING TARIFF

Senior Congressman from This County "Stands Pat" on Schedules.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

Gives Figures on the Exports and Imports Under Present Protection.

HIS OPINION OF RECIPROCITY

Declares Its Advocates Are Free Traders Wearing Masks and the Scheme Is Simply to Sacrifice One Industry to Build Up Another.

The Hon. John Dalzell, senior representative in congress from Allegheny county, yesterday gave out the following statement, embodying his views on the tariff. Mr. Dalzell is a "stand patter."

"I am not in favor of tariff revision at this time. In my judgment it is unnecessary, and to attempt it would be unwise and impolitic.

"It is unnecessary. We are, as is universally conceded, enjoying a prosperity such as neither we nor any other people have heretofore known. Our home market is the greatest in the world. Our foreign market has been increasing steadily year by year under the operation of our present law. The year before its enactment under the operation of a lower tariff we exported only about $850,000,000 worth; last year we exported nearly $1,600,000,000 worth. During the last year our exports of manufactures increased over $91,000,000 in value. This does not look much like being successfully shut out of foreign markets.

Increase of Imports.

"Our imports have likewise been increasing steadily under the operation of the present law. Last year they increased $126,500,000 worth. This does not look much like unreasonably shutting foreigners out of our markets. Forty-six and a half per cent of these imports came in free. Our amazing prosperity at home and abroad abides with us and was attained under the operation of our present tariff law. I have seen no evidence that that law harms any one. Experiments are dangerous. It is the part of wisdom to let well enough alone.

"In the absence of a necessity for revision it is unwise to attempt it. No such an attempt can be made without unsettling business conditions and creating alarm. This is proved by all the facts of our tariff history.

"The overwhelming Republican victory of the last election was not the result of any loyalty to theories or principles or men, but because the people in all walks of life were satisfied and wanted no change. It was made a vote for the continuance of present conditions. No tariff law can be enacted that in a country of such an extent as ours will not be subject to objections and provoke hostility.

Possibility of Hostility.

"The country has adapted itself to the present law with such objectionable features as it may have. To a new law, subject likewise to objection and hostility, more than likely to a greater degree than the present, the country would have to newly adapt itself. Thence necessarily and unavoidably would follow discontent.

"Revision of the tariff at this time is impolitic. Immediately preceding a congressional election it would array every discontented man and interest against the Republican party and in all probability result in a Democratic house.

"We can safely go to the country under the present law. It would be dangerous to do so under a new and untried one. I do not believe that there is any substantial demand outside of the Democrat and Mugwump press and the reciprocity theorists for tariff revision at this time. This I say deliberately after a journey across the continent clear to the Pacific coast. Everywhere I heard expressed the hope that there would be no interference with the tariff.

As to Reciprocity Advocates.

"Amongst the advocates of reciprocity there are undoubtedly some sincere men, but for the most part reciprocity advocates are simply free traders wearing masks. John Sharpe Williams, the floor leader of the minority in the house of representatives, in a magazine article published about a year ago, said and said truly:

> There is also a tariff revision by piecemeal which is the handmaiden of the other system. This is tariff revision by reciprocal trade agreements with other nations. Much can be done under this piecemeal line of tariff revision under a Democratic or approximately a Democratic law.

"Except that reciprocity which deals only in non-competing articles; the reciprocity of Blaine, Harrison, McKinley and Dingley and of the Republican platforms of 1900 and 1904, reciprocity is simply a scheme to sacrifice A's industry to maintain or build up B's. It is essentially un-Republican and no true protectionist should permit himself to be deceived by it.

"The Republican party of Pennsylvania in convention assembled not long ago declared against tariff revision. Conditions are the same now as when this declaration was made, and my judgment coincides with that of my party platform."

Dr. Seip Re-Elected.

ALTOONA, Sept. 21.—Dr. C. P. Seip of Pittsburgh, was re-elected a trustee of the Homeopathic Medical society of Pennsylvania at its closing session here today.

SOUNDS WARNING TO THE REPUBLICANS

League of Clubs Cautions Voters Against Hybrid Political Combinations.

EDWARDS ELECTED PRESIDENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

EASTON, PA., Sept. 21.—Albert J. Edwards of Pittsburgh was this morning unanimously elected president of the League of Republican clubs. He was nominated by Mayor March, who withdrew the name of Postmaster Serfass of Easton. The other officers elected are: Vice presidents, Harry J. Meyers, Bethlehem; John O. Sheatz and Edward Buckholz, Philadelphia; A. T. Connell, Scranton; Paul A. Schmitt, Wilkes-Barre; William J. Whitehouse, Pottsville; A. E. Sisson, Erie, and Herbert J. Riley, Chester; treasurer, J. H. Shaw, Philadelphia; recording secretary, Harry W. Keeley, Philadelphia.

The committee on time and place reported that the committee had been unable to agree upon a place and date for holding the next convention and recommended that the matter be referred to the executive committee of the league. The recommendation was adopted. The following resolutions, read by Milton Lowrey of Scranton, chairman of the committee, were adopted:

Renews Party Allegiance.

The Pennsylvania State League of Republican clubs, in its 18th annual convention assembled in the city of Easton, renews its allegiance to the principles of freedom, progress, protection and prosperity as interpreted by Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Blaine, McKinley and Roosevelt; declares its faith in organization by which effect is given to high party purposes and calls upon its thousands of members throughout the commonwealth to stand firmly, as they have always stood, for the triumph and election of the standard bearers of the party.

It heartily indorses the Republican nominees for state treasurer, the Hon. J. Lee Plummer of Hollidaysburg; for justice of the supreme court, the Hon. John Stewart of Chambersburg, and for justice of superior court, the Hon. Charles E. Rice of Wilkes-Barre, the Hon. George B. Orlady of Huntington and the Hon. James A. Beaver of Bellefonte, all of whom in private life and public service exemplify the highest type of Republicanism and the best citizenship.

It recognizes in the campaign now pending the existence of unusual conditions calling for the most careful exercise of the voters' intelligent action. Publicity has been given to charges of abuse and corruption, in various municipalities of the state, notably in the city of Philadelphia, and the enemies of the Republican party applauding and abetting these charges, have resorted to defamatory methods to the great scandal of the state amongst its sister states. They have encouraged and used such publications with a malignancy intended solely to defeat, if possible, the men whose chief offense has been their acceptance of standards placed in their hands by Republican conventions.

The Same Old Tricks.

Such methods on the part of the opposition are not new. They differ from the means adopted in former campaings only in the persistency and vindictiveness with which they are uttered and displayed, their purpose being to poison and mislead the minds of voters and to distract the attention of independent electors in order that a free silver, free trade Democratic state treasurer may be elected this fall as a forerunner of the election of a Democratic boss already in the minds eye of the Democratic party for governor of the state.

Representing the volunteer workers of the Republican party of the state this convention feels called upon to warn its legions of members throughout the commonwealth of the danger that confronts them. Their attention is called to the great work of the party in Pennsylvania in leading the national battle of protection to American industry. More than one-fifth of the entire majority in the United States accorded Theodore Roosevelt at the last national election, came from the stalwart voters of Pennsylvania. In the coming battle for the maintenance of protective tariff, the voters of Pennsylvania will be expected to again assume the lead in the galaxy of loyal states. While the contention of the Democracy tends to minimize the importance of the national issues in state campaigns it is nevertheless to be remembered and maintained that the success of national elections is derived from the workers and the individual voters at the polls, who keep intact the organization of the Republican party in state, in city in ward and in division throughout the entire year, whether it be an active year or what is commonly known as political warfare as an "off year."

Cannot Ignore Real Issue.

The issue between the Republican party with its protective principles and the Democratic party with its free trade menaces, is ever present and cannot be ignored for a year or for a day. Republicans of Pennsylvania, therefore, should not permit themselves to be deceived by any false alarm in the present campaign. Their party is not a party of graft or corruption. Their party is a party of glorious purposes. It has built up the nation and made the state prosperous. The manufacturing interests of Pennsylvania, involving capital and labor alike, are so interwoven with Republican policy and progress that overthrow of the party in a state or national election would be nothing short of public calamity.

The Republican party in Pennsylvania has brought good government to the state. It has preserved its financial honor and reduced its debt until today it is substantially free from bond obligations. It has given to the commonwealth a wise, upright, learned and conscientious governor whose full duty to the people has been faithfully performed regardless of venomous shafts unjustly directed against him. It has given the commonwealth two United States senators whose influence in the nation is widely felt and steadily increased despite the efforts of critics to assail them.

Big enough and broad enough to purge itself of agencies, whether individual or corporate, that fatten unlawfully upon its prosperity, the Republican party does not need the assistance of hypocritical reformers, fanatics or Democrats to cleanse its own household. It does not lie in the power of men who desert their party ship because of disappointed ambition or desire for revenge to turn the party organization over to those who would destroy it. Grievances with regard to men and measures may rightfully come to the attention of Republicans for such correction as seems desirable, but the grievances of those who never assist in the arduous work of party campaigns, should not be sufficient, though supported by momentary clamor, to tear down worthy institutions absolutely dependent for their perpetuation upon the effectiveness of the party organization.

Condemns Disgruntled Factionists.

Holding these views, this convention of the Pennsylvania State League of Republican Clubs condemns the efforts of dissatisfied and disgruntled factionists who have adopted the sainted name of Lincoln to undermine the stalwart structure reared by him, and calls upon true Republicans throughout the state to meet this insiduous movement which, if successful, could only result as it did in 1882 and 1890 in the election of a Democratic governor and the placing in the White House at Washington of Grover Cleveland, the apostle of free trade, deserted mills and soup houses.

With its face firmly set against election frauds, graft or corruption of any kind in public office, this convention also proclaims against the injustice and insincerity which striking without proof, employs local discord to stigmatize a commonwealth.

This convention favors the enactment in the next session of the legislature of a personal registration law, and stands today, as the Republican party has ever stood, for a clean ballot and a fair count.

We recommend a uniform primary ballot law, requiring political parties to hold their primary elections on the same days and between the same hours, throughout the state.

We especially urge upon the next general assembly the enactment of a new legislative and senatorial apportionment bill agreeable to the provision of the state constitution.

Finally, our dependence rests upon the staunch and sterling sons and heirs of Pennsylvania's Republican patriotism who demand and expect honesty in politics, as frequently as they eschew and denounce the heresy of Democracy, Berryism and Bryanism.

And our hope is begotten of a faith that the Republican ship, in spite of adverse winds, opposing tides and threatening breakers, will make her accustomed harbor, bearing to the breeze the same old ensign of victory, in the sunshine of peace and a clear sky.

The following were elected the delegates to the national convention: S. J. Wainwright, Pittsburgh; Gustav Bacharach, Philadelphia; Gorton Finney, Wilkes-Barre; F. A. March, Jr., Easton; Philip H. Johnson, Philadelphia, and Fred T. Pusey, Delaware. The alternates are John H. Hooker, Philadelphia; John A. Murphy, Pittsburgh; Frank Bendel, Reading; Edward Baxter, Philadelphia; August Knecht, Schuylkill, and John Rathmell, Lycoming.

RAILROAD LOSES SOME VALUABLE PROPERTY

Allegheny Common Council Takes Action to Recover Portion of School Street.

Allegheny common council last night passed finally the ordinance repealing an ordinance for the vacation of School street, from Killbuck street to the Allegheny river. More than a year ago councils vacated this thoroughfare and it became the property of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad. The fight at that time was bitter and the passage of the bill was fought by the administration that at that time had a fight on with the officials of the railroad. The vote was 26 ayes and 9 noes.

President Samuel McElroy made a strong appeal for a stay of action on the measure, saying that a board of viewers had been appointed to assess the benefits and damages caused by the vacation, and declared that any action just now would be invalid and in contempt of court. His appeal was vain.

A measure authorizing an issue of $90,000 park improvement bonds failed to pass for want of a legal majority, the vote being 16 for and 15 against it.

The ordinance providing for the purchase of a tract of land adjacent to Riverview park from the Marshall heirs at a price of $15,000, was laid over for a month, as was the resolution authorizing the mayor to sign a petition for the widening of Stockton avenue to a with of 55 feet between Federal street and Union avenue. The measure creating a police and firemen's disability board was passed finally. The same action was taken on the bill for the collection of waste paper and other litter.

BEAVER DEMOCRATS REBEL.

Fusion Movement Has Been Openly Denounced and the Republican Ticket Indorsed.

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The Democrats in many districts in Beaver county have began to rebel at the fusion movement between the Democrats disaffected Republicans and Prohibitionists. In two districts the Second ward of Rochester and North Sewickley township, meetings were held, and the fusion movement was denounced and the Republican ticket indorsed.

As the Democrats nominated R. S. Holt, a Republican, for the judgeship, many Democrats say they will vote for J. Rankin Martin, the regular Republican nominee on the ground that since they have to vote for a Republican, they may as well vote for a regular Republican.

BLOW FOR CITIZENS PARTY.

Prohibitionists Do Not Approve Movement of the New Faction in Washington.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Any hope that the new Citizens party of Washington county may have had that it would secure the support of the Prohibitionists in the fight to overthrow the organization of Congressman E. F. Acheson, was shattered today, when a statement was issued from Prohibition headquarters absolutely repudiating the new fusion movement.

The statement, after reciting that the Citizens party is endeavoring to create the impression that they will be supported by the Prohibition party says: "Our party or the cause of Prohibition has nothing whatever to gain by supporting this movement."

WILL TRY TO SECURE PATROL OF WATER-SHEDS

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—State Health Commissioner Dixon said today he would make an effort to have the water companies in Pennsylvania patrol their water sheds to prevent local infection. He has already secured the promises of water companies at Johnstown and Nanticoke to patrol their water sheds.

SIX HUNDRED WOMEN TEACHERS SECRETELY DETERMINE TO REVOLT

"We will fight bitterly in what we consider a just cause."

This was the announced decision reached by a secret meeting of 600 women teachers in the North school last night. Fifty speakers severely criticised the decisions of the examining commission in selecting teachers for promotion to class B, which carries with it an increase of salary. Fifty-seven per cent of the applicants were promoted, but the meeting held that many who failed were more deserving than some who were successful.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and terribly in earnest. Miss Clarissa A. Moffit of Wilkinsburg presided, and her opening address so aroused her audience that the applause and handclapping could be heard several squares away. After the meeting adjourned at 11:15 p. m., Miss Moffit said, in addition to the opening sentence:

"Quite a number of teachers are seriously considering testing this latest method of qualifying or promoting teachers. This would be done individually, of course. The association has not yet received any official communication of the results of the examination made by the salary commission. The objections on the part of the association are not to the questions asked, as people might think, but to the manner of the examination, as regards the time limit, overcrowded rooms and many other inconveniences.

"What we feel hurt at most, however, is the fact that one of the teachers who failed was thought good enough last year to be selected to conduct the seventh year institute. And this fact appears all the stranger because two of the present salary commission who marked the young woman 'failed' in the recent examination for Class B, voted for her to get the above named appointment.

The association has decided to do all in its power to rectify what the vast majority of its members feel is an injustice to many of its most proficient teachers.

"Instead of the manner in which the recent examinations were held, the meeting decided tonight that there should have been personal inspection. Then everyone would have had a fair show. If the teacher were visited at her work things would have been different."

The Evenings Sessions of the Iron City College begin Monday, September 25th.

COL. GUFFEY HOLDS A SECRET CONCLAVE WITH LIEUTENANTS

Urges City Party Organization to Carry Candidate Berry's Name on Its Ticket—Will Open Headquarters in Philadelphia.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Col. James M. Guffey and the Democratic state central committee had a secret conclave here this afternoon in which the colonel impressed upon the executive committee the necessity of having the local City party organization indorse William H. Berry, Democratic candidate for state treasurer, by carrying his name on their ticket. Col. Guffey also decided to open Democratic state headquarters here and gave State Chairman James K. P. Hall carte blanche in the matter of their selection.

All of the members of the state central committee were here. They are W. J. Brennen, Pittsburgh; John H. Ancona, Berks; E. S. Doty, Bedford; D. J. Driscol, Elk; Dr. John Walter, Lebanon; W. T. Creasy, Columbia; M. F. Gallagher, Lycoming; W. H. Kaneib, Erie, and Charles P. Donnelly, Philadelphia. The meeting was held at the Hotel Walton in rooms occupied by Chairman Hall.

Craiman Donnelly of Philadelphia told Col. Guffey had he had induced the Democratic city convention to indorse the county ticket of the City party; of the row it provoked among the Democratic delegates, and the best way to mollify them. The colonel, it is said, immediately O. K.'d the prescribed emollient, and it will be distributed by Chairman Donnelly.

While it is impossible to learn whether Col. Guffey, in person, talked with any of the City party managers, it is reliably stated the Weaver-Gordon people understand what Col. Guffey demands in the way of reciprocity for Democratic support. The colonel is much interested in his candidate for state treasurer, and he insists the City party cannot do less than indorse him.

Fear of losing independent Republican votes causes the City party to hesitate. Unless it does indorse Berry, the Democratic organization here will have stored the first "gold brick" since it became the property of Donnelly and Ryan.

Chairman Hall said tonight that the state headquarters at Harrisburg would probably be continued, but he thought only as a branch, Philadelphia being more desirable for many reasons.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

THE NEW YORK LIFE IS OUT $300,000

$3,000, and receive about $100,000 annually in bonuses.

Earlier in the day Mr. Perkins had been questioned on the "joint account" transactions of the New York Life Insurance Company, which he was unable to explain last Friday. Today he presented statements of each account.

Mr. Perkins took occasion to correct his testimony of last Friday, relative to the navigation bonds when he was asked if the object of the transactions between J. P. Morgan & Co., and the New York Life Insurance Company was to remove the $800,000 bonds from the insurance company's books and reduce their holdings temporarily from $4,000,000 to $3,000,000. Mr. Perkins answered yes, but today, said: "I did not mean that; I meant to say 'No.'"

Before Mr. Perkins took the stand, John F. McCullagh of Albany, a clerk for Andrew Hamilton, was called in an attempt to probe further into the $100,000 check matter, but Mr. McCullagh could give no information and was excused.

When one of the syndicate transactions was under discussion Mr. Perkins said:

"We went into this transaction to get these bonds as cheaply as possible. I fear, sir, that you are under the impression that we went into this business so as to let others make money out of the action, but that is not so."

"We will skip the motive," interrupted Mr. Hughes. "Let us get at the facts. I do not wish to discuss the matter at all with you. Let us have the facts."

"All right, sir."

A joint account in Missouri Pacific 5s showed profits of $98,172 each to the insurance company and of $9,442 to George W. Bartholomew, a broker in a joint account with Farson, Leach & Co., in 1901, in which bonds amounting to $1,100,000 were handled, the profits were divided, the insurance company receiving $22,005.

"Do I understand," said Mr. Hughes, "Farson, Leach & Co. did not put up any of the money?"

"Another way of putting it," replied Mr. Perkins; "they did all the work and we furnished the money. We received the money for our bonds and divided the profits."

"What is the work they did?"

"They called our attention to the bonds and carried out the purchase and the sale."

Perkins Needs Reference.

After the total profits made by the New York Life in its syndicate dealings with J. P. Morgan & Co. had been presented, Mr. Hughes said:

> Now, the profit the company made on the sale of 5,005 shares of the New York Security and Trust Company, and other shares in 1904, was $5,235,985, to which must be added a further profit of $154,135, making approximately $5,480,000. Did you charge all these profits in your annual report, or did you charge against it $1,032,830 for advances to agents, $256,904 for expenses, and $343,983 for losses on real estate, leaving a net profit of a little over $3,000,000?
> I can't tell you off-hand; but I will look into it.

Mr. Perkins said the New York Life Insurance Company had loaned to E. H. Harriman on January 14, 1904, the sum of $500,000 and that the note was renewed twice and will expire January 6, 1906. The Harriman loan and the Hegeman loan of $50,000 figure on the company's books and were in the annual report of the company. The Harriman loan, Mr. Perkins explained, was secured by gilt-edged securities in railroad bonds and the rate of interest on the loan was 4¾ per cent.

> Now, it came out in our evidence yesterday that the president of your company has put into the hands of a lawyer $235,000 which is unaccounted for. Do you know anything about that?
>
> No.
>
> How can this happen when by your by-laws the finance committee has control of such matters?
>
> The finance committee does not consider the expenditure of funds unless they are invested in securities.
>
> Do you know what Mr. Hamilton does?
>
> I don't know.
>
> Do you know that he represents your company throughout the country in legislative matters?
>
> I have nothing to do with it.

Agencies Are Described.

Mr. Perkins then described the agency management. He said:

> The original method of getting business was through general agencies. Certain territories were farmed out to certain men, who made sub-contracts with the actual soliciting agents. There was no contract between the latter and the company, and the soliciting agent had merely a sub-contract with the general agent. They were paid by a proposition on first premium and on the premiums for the following years.
>
> This system was followed for nearly 30 years, but about 1886 I was allowed to try a new system out west. The company was to rent an office and place a cashier in charge. The policyholders paid their fees to the cashier, who was the company's representative. Agency directors were also appointed, and each soliciting agent had his own contract direct with the New York Life Insurance Company. This system has now been introduced everywhere. Men on salary work for quantity and quality of risks.
>
> There are about ten agency inspectors in this country who are in charge of the directors. There are two inspectors-at-large, who travel all over the country and receive a salary of $1,000 a month. In the domestic field the total salaries of these agency inspectors amounts to about $126,000 a year. The agency directors get a bonus, besides, of [illegible] thousand on all the business done by the new agents which the directors secure.

Chairman Armstrong asked:

"If I were an agency director and lost 10 agents and thereby lost a corresponding amount of business, what would I get?"

Mr. Perkins replied: "You would get discharged."

Earnings of Agents.

Mr. Buckner was called to the stand. He stated the salaries of the agency directors averaged $3,600 a year. They ranged from $150 to $500 a month. There were about a dozen at the latter salary. Witness stated that in the year 1904 the agency directors received in bonuses about $100,000. There was but one form of contract with agents and no secret arrangements by which one agent would get favors and another would not. The average commission paid to agents was under 50 per cent and the highest 60.

Mr. Hughes read from the company's report showing that in the first year under the new plan commissions paid to agents amounted to $7,276,853, and stated that that sum was in excess by at least $200,000 of 50 per cent average. The largest sum a smart agent could earn was about $25,000 a year. He had never paid money to get agents away from other companies.

Mr. Hughes pointed out that the company paid $595,980 for bonuses, $1,606,471 in salaries to managers, etc., and $125,735 on expenses of conventions.

Mr. Buckner sand the agents were divided into $100,000 and $200,000 clubs. The man who wrote $100,000 insurance belonged to the $100,000 club and the man who wrote $200,000 insurance to the other cub. The $200,000 men met in July; the $100,000 met by states, as convenient.

Mr. Hughes asked if it was not true that a few years ago there has not been a cut of about $200,000 in home office expenses in order that it might be claimed these expenses were less in the New York Life Insurance Company than other companies, but that the reduction was really gained by crediting to agency expenses what had before been set down to the home office. Mr. Buckner could not answer definitely, but said it might be so.

HIGHWAYMAN VERY BOLD.

Beats Down and Robs Man in the Streets of Millvale in Broad Daylight.

Beaten down to the pavement with a handbilly and robbed while walking along Stanton avenue at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, was the experience of J. Lindenfelser of 810 Chestnut street, Allegheny, during his first visit to Millvale yesterday.

Lindenfelser, who is employed by a local transfer company, went to collect some bills. Taking a drink in a saloon on Stanton avenue, he was accosted by a stranger who followed him into the street and asked him for a dollar. He refused to make the loan, whereupon he was struck in the face with a handbilly which cut open his eye and face and knocked him down. The thug took $15 from one of his pockets, overlooking a large sum of money in another pocket. The man ran down Stanton avenue, in view of several witnesses and escaped.

SENATOR PENROSE TALKS TO GRANGE

Assures Farmers He Will Look After Their Interests at Washington.

MEETING IN CENTRE COUNTY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

CENTRE HALL, PA., Sept. 21.—Senator Boies Penrose today addressed several thousand members of the state grange. When he had concluded his speech the farmers were satisfied the senator is well versed concerning the agricultural interests of the state.

Each year the grangers of Centre county and the central part of the state go into camp for a week at Centre Hall, in Penns valley. On some occasions Republican and Democratic orators have been invited to discuss politics for the edification of the farmers. This year it was decided politics should be tabooed. Senator Penrose was requested to make a speech to the members of the grange and he came here with the full understanding he was to talk about the farm and the farmer. He showed his audience it is just as easy for him to converse about agriculture as it is to discuss the political issues of the day.

The crowd today was a record-breaker and nearly every one on the grounds was introduced to Senator Penrose. He has been at Centre Hall before and found pleasure in renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. He was introduced to the farmers and their wives by Leonard Rhone, former Judge John G. Love, Republican County Chairman Philip Foster, and a number of other prominent Centre county men.

The meeting was held in the big auditorium and hundreds of people were unable to gain admittance. In addition to Senator Penrose, speeches were made by N. B. Critchfield, secretary of agriculture for Pennsylvania; Dr. B. H. Warren, state dairy and food commissioner; George G. Hutchinson of the agricultural department; W. F. Hill of Franklin county, worthy master of the state grange, and Jerome T. Ailman of Juniata county, secretary of the state grange. The speakers confined themselves to subjects of interest to the farmers and dairymen. Dr. Warren told what had been done to prevent the illegal sale of oleo. State Forestry Commissioner Robert S. Conklin was here, but did not make an address.

Resolutions were adopted calling upon President Roosevelt to see that those guilty of allowing the substitution of oleo for butter at the League Island navy yards be prosecuted and Senators Penrose and Knox and the members of the house of representatives from Pennsylvania were asked to work and vote for an amendment to the Grout bill to strike out the word "knowingly." At present the bill makes it illegal to "knowingly" defraud the public in the sale of oleo. The grangers have found the bogus butter dealers are hiding behind this word and they want it taken out of the act.

In introducing Senator Penrose to the grangers Chairman Rhone said the farmers of the country had worked for 20 years to secure protective oleo legislation and they found no assistance in the senate until Senator Penrose took charge of their fight and forced through the Grout bill. The grangers indicated by their applause that they appreciated the services of the senior senator. He assured the farmers that he would continue to look after their interests in Washington.

Importance of Agriculture.

Mr. Penrose said in part:

> Representing as I do in part at Washington the great state of Pennsylvania, the second state of the Union and in many respects the greatest of all the states, I am not unmindful of the fact that not the least imporant element of this great constituency is composed of the agricultural interests of our commonwealth.
>
> It is true that we have in the western end of our state, in the city of Pittsburgh, the greatest seats of industrial development that the world has ever seen, while at the eastern end we have the great city of Philadelphia, the third city in the Union, and one of the great manufacturing cities of the world, and that we have numerous smaller but great and growing municipalities, but, nevertheless, the fact remains that, while Pennsylvania stands first among the states of the Union in the production of iron and coal and second in the value of her manufactured products, she is also among the foremost in her position and rank as as agricultural state.
>
> The value of all grains or cereals produced in this state in the year 1904 was, in round numbers, $74,000,000; the value of hay produced was $52,000,000; potatoes were valued at $18,000,000; tobacco at $1,700,000. The grand total value of all these field crops was $144,000,000, being nearly $16,000,000 more than produced in the year 1903. When to this is added the value of the products of the orchards, the small fruits and truck farms of the state, as well as the products of the dairy and poultry yard, in all of which farm industries Pennsylvania holds an advanced position, it may be seen that the farmers of the state are contributing to the wealth of this great commonwealth in vast and increasing amounts.

Dairies Are Prosperous.

> The pasturage of the southwestern section of our state is almost equal to the famous Bluegrass region of Kentucky and the wool products of Greene and Washington counties alone in 1900 amounted to over $3,050,000.
>
> In the northern tier of counties dairy and stock raising have been raised to a high degree of prosperity. Large quantities of milk are shipped from these counties to New York and Philadelphia, while a number of creameries and cheese factories are engaged in preparing the products of the dairy for market in a [illegible] condensed form. Some of the most finely equipped dairies to be found anywhere in America are located in the southeastern section of the state.
>
> Truly may it be said that the farmers of the country create most of its wealth. They send abroad 63 per cent of our exports in addition to producing much of the material from which manufactured articles are made that are used at home and abroad.
>
> Taking the business of 1903 the comparison is much more favorable to the farmers than during the preceding 12-year period. In that year the value of domestic exports over imports was $337,000,000, the entire trade being included, while the excess for farm products was $422,000,000, which was sufficient not only to offset the unfavorable balance of trade of $85,000,000 in products other than those of the farm but, as above stated, to leave the enormous favorable balance of $337,000,000.
>
> The American farmer holds an important place in our American civilization today and he has a splendid future of growing importance. With every year his conditions improve; the products of his farm enhance in value; the scientific methods introduced make the possibilities greater and greater. The man who has his own farm and is his own master must always be the bulwark of our institutions. He has better opportunities for self-improvement and for keeping himself informed as to public matters and for forming a correct judgment thereon than many others absorbed in the endless toil and turmoil of the great centers of population.
>
> I have always considered it one of my first duties, and it certainly has been one of my greatest pleasures, to contribute to any way to securing legislation and governmental action which will tend to the prosperity of our farming classes, and as I have done in this respect in the past, so I shall continue in the future.

Republican Returning Board Expects Result of Apportionment Count at 3 O'Clock.

SHAKING HANDS AT THE FAIR

The Republican returning board is still awaiting the result of the work of the clerks who are apportioning the Roosevelt vote among the candidates for office on the Republican ticket. Chairman Thomas J. Ford said yesterday that he expected the work would be done at 3 p. m. today. At any rate the returning board has been called to meet at that hour, with the expectation that the computation will be finished by that time.

It is hardly likely that the apportionment will make any changes in the result. It would be possible for a candidate, defeated at the primaries, to come out ahead after the apportionment of the presidential vote has been completed, but it is not likely, for the candidate for office who carried the larger portion of the districts has probably also carried the larger proportion of the districts which give big Republican majorities at the presidential election.

The committee on vacancies of the Citizens party met yesterday and got a rebuff from Alexander Dempster. The committee had decided to offer Mr. Dempster the nomination for county commissioner, but he has declined to let his name be used to lead a forlorn hope. The committee on vacancies, therefore, gave out the story that Dempster had declined to run for "business reasons." Mr. Dempster is supposed to know, however, that James A. Clark, the Democratic candidate for county commissioner on the Democratic-Citizens ticket, seriously objects to the nomination of a man like Mr. Dempster, for Clark wants to poll more votes than his running mate, so that, if the Republican ticket wins, he will be the highest man on the minority ticket and thus continue to hold the office of county commissioner.

The delay in selecting the rest of the candidates remaining to be nominated for the fusion ticket is not because of difficulty in deciding on candidates, but because, as told in The Gazette yesterday, Col. James M. Guffey, the Democratic leader, insists that the Citizens must indorse Berry, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, instead of J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate, and the Citizens are trying to change Col. Guffey's mind.

The county fair at Imperial was the Mecca of the candidates yesterday. C. B. Price, one of the Republican candidates for county commissioner, and one or two candidates of the Citizens party, visited the fair, shook hands with the farmers and their wives and daughters, admired the big pumpkins, stroked the horses and went into ecstacies over the prime hogs. Several farmers received orders for home cured hams and bacon, to be furnished when hog killing time is over, irrespective of the result of the election.

AWAIT EXONERATIONS BEFORE PAYING TAXES

Finance Committee to Act on 100 Tax Rebates—East Birmingham Balance Which Larkin Talked Of.

The councilmanic finance committee has been called to meet at 3 p. m., today. There are about 100 tax exonerations which the committee is expected to consider. The committee will also consider an ordinance which, however still has to be prepared and presented in councils. Mr. Morrow says there is $4,900 balance in the sinking fund for the redempiton of the East Birmingham bonds, which amounted altogether to $69,000, and he will present an ordinance closing up the account.

Mr. Morrow does not know what will become of the money, which the taxpayers of that portion of the city, formerly called East Birmingham, have overpaid. Of course, it is admitted, the taxpayers ought to get the money back, but it will be difficult to apportion the amount each individual ought to receive, so that councils will probably finally dispose of the money for the benefit of the city. Some are willing to wager that the $4,900 will not be used for the benefit of East Birmingham improvements, either, but that it will go for the benefit of some other part of the city. The finance committee will also consider an ordinance providing for the selling at auction of a half-dozen lots in various parts of the city, owned by the city.

HERBERT'S FRIENDS THERE.

Immense Audience Turns Out to Greet the Composer During Evening Concert at the Expo.

"Victor Herbert" night attracted a typical Pittsburgh audience to the Exposition last evening and the familiar airs of "The Serenade," "The Belle of Pittsburgh" and the Grand American Fantasie were received with deafening applause. # LARKIN INVADES ALLEGHENY CITY

Pittsburgh Official Has a Nice Time on His First Pilgrimage to the North Side.

SAYS HE WILL GO OVER AGAIN

Controller John B. Larkin of Pittsburgh pulled down the roll top of his desk at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and quit working for the day.

Mr. Larkin has long had a desire to take an excursion over into Allegheny, to look it over for himself. Several weeks ago, when Controller Brown of Allegheny dropped into Pittsburgh City hall, he had a long, earnest conversation with Mr. Larkin and described some of the sights to be seen on the North Side. At that time, Controller Larkin told Controller Brown he had often wished to visit Allegheny and promised he would go over soon.

An obliging conductor put Mr. Larkin off the car at the North Side municipal building, and like any man who had never been there before, he wandered cautiously into the building and stood hesitatingly at the Federal street doorway. He had read so much about Allegheny that he wanted to look around before venturing too far. Then Mr. Larkin got sight of the building directory near the door of the treasurer's office. From it he learned the number of Controller Brown's office, and thence he traveled, breathing a sigh of relief when Mr. Brown closed the door of his private office and opened a new box of tobies.

For a long time the two sat and talked about floating debts, water meters, department appropriations, park improvement bonds, and other affairs of an equally dry character. Ideas of government were exchanged and each confided in the other the innumerable troubles connected with the office of controller. The difference in the tax rates of the two cities, and the changes necessary should consolidation ever be realized, were discussed. Mr. Brown showed Mr. Larkin the inside of the big vault and how he kept his books. Mr. Larkin graciously explained numerous things about his own office that he did not find in Brown's.

Then when such things lost their interest, Mr. Larkin looked out of the window and admired the pretty park across Ohio street. When he caught sight of the gold dome of the postoffice, he wanted to know what building boasted such a pretentious room. Mr. Brown told him and assured Mr. Larkin that such a valuable sky-piece was quite safe from attack, even in Allegheny. However, Mr. Larkin's curiosity was aroused, and bidding Mr. Brown adieu, he stepped over and entered the postoffice.

Controller Larkin and Postmaster Francies are good friends, so he rang the bell at the postmaster's door. Mr. Francies' stenographer was impressed by the visitor and was extremely sorry that Mr. Francies was not in. Mr. Larkin was obviously disappointed at not finding Francies and said as much. Evidently he did not care to explore the North Side any further, for he boarded a car and returned to Pittsburgh. Back in his office he told Assistant Controller Morrow what a dandy time he had had, and said he was going back to Allegheny some time again.

Flinn Interests Secure Franchise for Electric Railway in Wilkinsburg. Decision on Contests Soon.

The Flinn interests yesterday secured another charter in their new plans for tunnel and traction lines. This charter is for the Penn and Franklin Street Railway Company, a Wilkinsburg line. It is projected to run from Swissvale and Franklin avenue in Wilkinsburg along the boundary line to Johnson street.

The decision of the governor on the contests between the Fording and Flinn and the Fording and Pittsburgh Railways interests is expected soon.

There you have the keystone to our unusually large millinery patronage and its unusually fast growth.

Our sole aim is, and has always been, to give the women of Pittsburg, the girls of Pittsburg, becoming hats trimmed after ideas of our own, trimmed so they will proclaim the designer as an artist of ability, for prices as modest as is consistent with high art in the world of millinery.

The opening of early Autumn styles this week presages a season of activity—more hats have been sold so far this September than in any former Autumn month, which goes to show that women fully recognize the merits of our different styles of hats, toques and bonnets.

Today we will be pleased to have you take special notice of our popular priced millinery, both for women and for girls. It is worthy of some moments of your time.

|---|---|
| Among the popular priced models for women are tailored and draped toques, bonnets and sailors, some in two-toned blocked felts, others of beaver strips and velvet—copies of some of the most fashionable imported and New York models—$5.00—and easily along to | $15.00 |
| As something very special we point to one lot of street hats for women, some four or five different styles, that came to us under price from a noted New York manufacturer. There are different colors in dress, turban and velvet effects—handsome taffeta silk trimmed with wings, and two styles of pressed felts—and notwithstanding these are regular $7.50 hats, tomorrow they will be priced at | $4.00 |
| Young ladies' and girls' Autumn Hats—in all the newest and best materials, from the simply trimmed sailor, continental and colonial, to the very elaborate dress hats, all colors suitable for young people, in the price range of $2.00 and easily up to | $10.00 |
| Little girls' new style of round and square crown felt flats, all the pretty color tints, a regular $1.25 hat, tomorrow | 75c |
| For those who have the knack of putting on the finishing touches to a hat we have an abundance of pretty flowers and feathers, about the only thing to be considered now for trimming children's hats. Always complete variety in these trimmings, such as wings, quills, pompons and aigrettes, and tomorrow such trimmings will be sold specially for, each | 25c |

Their mates sold for $7.50 and up to $15.00. The collection is made up of small numbers of waists remaining from various Autumn lines that have sold out quickly—representing one and two of a style.

There are silk, crepe, lingerie and pretty cotton waists—any number of styles—too many to bother you with descriptions. Both light and dark colors. Suitable for street and evening wear.

Along with these silks in special sale we shall have a number of lingerie blouses, prices $5.00 and up to $15.00, former prices $7.50 and up to $30.00.

Friday, September 22, 1905.

While the fines, aggregating $25,000, imposed on certain meat packers yesterday may not break up the practice of taking rebates, it will hurt some. The amount would cover the difference between "special" and regular rates on several tons of packing house products. If repeated frequently it would make rebates unprofitable.

Pittsburgh is complimented in the election of Albert J. Edwards as president of the State League of Republican clubs. The young Republicans of this city have always been active in the work of the league and have been several times honored in the official roster. The clubs have work to do in this year's campaign and under Mr. Edwards' leadership they will do it.

Senator Penrose disposed of the Homer Castle charge against an Allegheny county bank, for which he said he acted as attorney, with an absolute denial, accompanied by a forcible expletive. One Allegheny county bank alleged to be implicated has entered denial by its vice president. If Mr. Castle expects anyone to accept his charge he will have to be more specific and produce his witnesses.

Just what Clarence S. Funk means by his declaration of intent of the International Harvester Company to establish foreign factories is not clear. His company might have evaded the retaliatory tariff of Russia, now happily annulled, by having a plant in Sweden, but that would not be likely to help over the German wall. It is certain Mr. Funk's company is amply protected, so he cannot be talking for higher rates in his line.

We are sorry to hear of the sad deterioration of the noble frigate Constitution which has been peacefully reposing since 1897 at the Boston navy yard after a life of stirring action. "Old Ironsides" is leaking badly and cannot be placed in drydock for repairs, owing to its condition. "The first ship of the American navy" has been rebuilt since its memorable launching, but it possesses no less sentimental interest for all who are familiar with its glorious achievements.

The report of the commissioner of pensions, just issued, discloses the interesting fact that five pensioners on account of the war of the revolution are still carried on the rolls. One is the widow of a soldier who fought for American independence, while the other four are veritable "daughters of the revolution." But the most significant note in the report is the evidence given of the bureau's attention to business. There are pending but 1,256 original claims of civil war survivors, and these are to be adjudicated without delay.

The "Black Hand" in New York has struck a blow. The explosion of a dynamite bomb on the steps of a First avenue tenement house is attributed to the mysterious society which for months has been frightening folk with threatening letters. This particular outrage was preceded by the sending of four letters in succession, signed "Black Hand" and demanding money from one of the tenants of the threatened building. The incident helps to illumine the utter inefficiency of the metropolitan detective force, which ignores even the kind warnings of intending criminals.

While the news from Norway that the postal service has been increased in order to take care of the mobilization summonses, and that 60 cannon have been sent south by rail, appears somewhat warlike, it is more likely a mere bluff. If the severance of relations should take place on hostile terms, both sides wish to be fully prepared for emergencies. At this time it is not inadvisable for each country to make as impressive a military showing as possible. There can be no doubt of a strong current of sentiment in each nation that should make for peace. Sweden will lose more than Norway by the coming separation, for it means the abandonment of her supposed plans for eastward extension of power, which she could not attain without Norway's aid.

Mr. Dalzell's Tariff Views.

On another page of this Gazette will be found a statement by the Hon. John Dalzell, our senior representative in congress, opposing tariff revision. Mr. Dalzell is entitled to a careful hearing, for he is a friend of the protective system, distinguished by his services to American industry. The Gazette stands with him for every word he says in favor of ample protection to American labor and American capital; it agrees with him that amazing prosperity has come to the nation from the enactment of the Dingley tariff; it preceded him in the declaration that it knows of no interest that has been injured.

The Gazette differs from Mr. Dalzell on one point only, the policy or expedience of a present revision. It believes the tariff should be revised from time to time to meet changing conditions and that it should be revised by Republicans and protectionists. It knows of no man better qualified to make such revision than John Dalzell, and to him it would entrust the task. The Gazette desires no Democratic tariff revision, it invites no Democratic assistance and it wants no Democratic advice.

It is not because The Gazette fears loss of foreign trade in American products that it advises revision of the tariff; nor because it imagines all men can be made satisfied with one law. It is because it believes in the policy of adjusting economic laws to existing conditions without disturbance of the stability of economic principles. No harm came from the readjustment of 1868; none followed that of 1883, both of which were revisions of Republican protective tariffs by Republican protective congresses. The Gazette is confident no harm can come from a revision by the Fifty-ninth congress, a sound, protectionist body, in this period of unexampled prosperity. It believes such a revision should be made. In that, alone, it differs from Mr. Dalzell. If the Republican leaders of the Fifty-ninth congress agree with its view it will welcome the action; if they side with Mr. Dalzell The Gazette will acquiesce without a murmur. It does not assume to dictate; it ventures to suggest and advise what in its judgment is right, good policy and best calculated to sustain the amazing prosperity of the country and the continued supremacy of the Republican party and its policies.

Pointers to Police.

Police Commissioner McAdoo of New York, in the course of an address to some of his men yesterday, made some suggestions which might well be heeded by patrolmen nearer home than the metropolis. Especial stress was laid upon the necessity for unvarying politeness. Nothing was said about carrying gallantry to the point of osculation, but the men were warned they are the servants of the people and not the autocrats of the streets. "When people ask questions, answer them," said Mr. McAdoo. "If you do not know the answer, say so politely. Do not indulge in profanity. It detracts very much from a police officer. Don't talk on the corners to citizens. Patrol, because the safety of life and limb and property depends upon whether or not you are faithful on patrol. Keep your eyes open. Watch the people in the streets. Get acquainted with the habits of people. Look for suspicious characters. Take mental note of everything you see."

In those cities where the work of the police force is reduced to a business basis every patrolman, in the broadest sense of the term, is a detective. By keeping his eyes open, as suggested, he can assist in preventing crime, as well as apprehending the offender. The day is passing when all that is required of an officer is to ornament the streets and be within call in case of trouble. We expect his vigilance to be developed to such a degree that he shall know where trouble is likely to occur and be on the spot. The all-around, competent policeman has not yet arrived, but he is on the way. He is sadly needed.

Parker and Campaign Funds.

While the public may not agree with President John A. McCall of the New York Life that campaign contributions by insurance companies are entirely proper, it must concede his remarks concerning Judge Parker were timely and in good taste. The public must notice, too, that Judge Parker's denial is carefully limited to the campaign of 1904—a period not mentioned by Mr. McCall in connection with Mr. Parker. Mr. McCall said Parker's friends made him weary with their supplications in 1904, and that Mr. Parker never refused a dollar when he was Democratic state chairman. Mr. Parker's denial denies nothing.

It is a matter of fact the Democratic party has solicited, received and used money in campaigns, precisely as the Republican party has done. The proposition to proscribe contributions from corporations by law, strikes as hard at the Democratic organization as at the Republican. It contemplates a needed reform in the conduct of campaigns by all parties. Judge Parker as a campaign manager took his money wherever he could get it; as a presidential candidate he covered the operations of his committee by a virtuous denunciation of the supposed operations of the opposition.

Mr. Bryan's appearance in the arena is wholly gratuitous. His campaign for depreciation of the currency was financed by the silver barons who would have ruthlessly sacrificed the widows and orphans for their personal profit. Mr. McCall had genuine reason, during Bryan's campaigns, to feel alarmed for the assets of his company, for the value of the securities held for the protection of policyholders and the protection of their widows and orphans. The success of Bryan would have meant to those persons the loss of a thousand times more than the sum contributed to the Republican campaign fund. Mr. McCall did not err in his judgment of the consequences.

Hunting Candidates.

Having created two parts of a county ticket by devious processes, the Democrats and Citizens are having trouble about the remaining nominations. Gentlemen who are invited to become candidates decline with remarkable unanimity. Some have one excuse, some another, they are too polite to assign their real reasons; that the prospect is hopeless and they do not expect a square deal.

Candidates already named on the fusion ticket represent the factional interests in possession of both organizations. They will be supported by the factions because they realize they must "hang together" if they are not to be executed separately. Other candidates are wanted for sacrificial purposes. For example, a running mate is wanted for Commissioner Clark, who will not interfere with that gentleman's chance to become the minority member of the board. Others are wanted who can be "traded" for votes for those already selected. Patriots who pine for the privilege of paying for place under these conditions are not plentiful.

Even if the square deal were contemplated there is little hope of election. The chosen representatives of the factions, held together by the cohesive power of prospective plunder have no chance of election this year. It is a Republican year. The people are awake to the need of better government and look for it under the auspices of responsible party control.

Desks or Benches?

The suggestion of a Washington official, recently returned from Europe, that benches be substituted for the desks now in use in the national house of representatives, is not a new one. The same suggestion once emanated from the late Thomas B. Reed, but was not received with much enthusiasm. Complaint is made that the members find the desks too convenient for reading and writing and are often absorbed in transacting private business when there are public matters of importance demanding attention. Rarely, indeed, is a member fortunate enough to command the undivided attention of the house, and his remarks must be of an unusually sensational or entertaining character to attract even a handful of interested auditors among his fellow members.

The proposed change would not help matters much. The experiment was made once, shortly before the civil war, and it was found almost impossible to maintain a quorum. Members found the monotony of sitting still and listening to the recital of dry facts, and the readings of bills for the first, second and third time, too trying to the nerves, and at the end of the session the benches were removed and the desks restored. Members of the British house of commons sit on benches, but conditions there are different. Though there are nearly 700 members, the benches provide room for only half the entire membership. In our house of representatives it would be difficult, without the desks, to secure a sufficient number of members for the transaction of business. The American is a restless creature. He cannot endure being idle, but must improve each shining minute. There is just one way to secure better attention from the members. Make the proceedings more interesting.

James J. Hill tells Minnesota farmers the Panama canal will be an expensive toy, of little use in extending trade. Jim naturally has more faith in the railroads.

From the way the Democratic-Citizens committee of five is hunting candidates it may be inferred open primary nominations are more popular.

TARIFF REVISION BY THIS CONGRESS

Words of Approval Come from Many Quarters Where Protection Is Believed In.

From the Cleveland Leader (Rep.).

The Leader agrees with the Pittsburgh Gazette that the time has come for a revision of the tariff by its friends. It welcomes the venerable journalistic standpatter from Pennsylvania to the ranks of the young and rejuvenated, who are prepared to revise and rule rather than remain obdurate and retire.

But we cannot quite concur in the selection of the friends of the tariff to whom it wishes to trust the revision—Joseph G. Cannon, Sereno E. Payne, John Dalzell and Charles H. Grosvenor—the speaker and the ranking members of the committee of ways and means. The four gentlemen are rather more royalist than the king. Neither President McKinley nor the late Nelson Dingley, apostles as they were of protection, could equal the solicitude of these four grenadiers for the infant industries of the country.

There is no reason why the speaker and the other three gentlemen should not have a hand in the revision of the tariff. They will have a hand—partly because nobody can prevent it and partly because if there is to be any revision at all they must consent to it. They will not be enthusiastic, native-born Bourbon revisionists. We cannot recollect that any of them has been a pioneer in the movement. They are among the converts who prefer to revise and rule to the alternative we have already suggested.

Beggars must not be choosers. While the grenadiers must have a hand we want the redoubtable Foss, the explosive Littlefield, and the eloquent Bob Cousins of Iowa, to give vent to the necessary enthusiasm and Bourbonism, and with the assistance of Theodore Roosevelt, jam through some sort of real revision, and it will afford us great pleasure to witness the performance of the old guard which "surrenders, but never dies."

Reasons for Revision.

From the Ohio State Journal (Rep.).

The cause of revision does not mean revision downward, altogether. It means putting the Dingley duties on just grounds, whether the revision is downward or upward. If there is an industry that should be protected better, revision includes that within its purposes. The pottery and tableglass industries may belong to this class, and if so, they should be favored with higher rates. To act justly and fairly is all revision desires.

No true friend of protection will take advantage of the prestige of the beneficent policy, and use it for protecting an injustice, as some of the duties certainly are. No one would ever suspect the New York Tribune or the Pittsburgh Gazette of making a suggestion that could prejudice protection, and both of these papers have favored revision. They see some inequalities in the law that ought to be removed. Nor would President Roosevelt lift a finger against protection, and yet he is strongly in favor of some amendments to the Dingley law.

Some of these unjust duties are making millionaires of men who control certain industries, or are going into the coffers of the trusts when they are intended to benefit the producers. These are the men who contribute the opposition to revision. They make use of watchwords of political faith to mislead the people and perpetuate their selfish schemes.

Not a Free Trade Idea.

From the Johnstown Tribune (Rep.).

The Pittsburgh Gazette, published in the home of John Dalzell, is advocating tariff revision. The Gazette truly says that a revision of the tariff does not necessarily mean that the free traders and men afflicted with either the Iowa or Massachusetts "idea" are to be permitted to dictate a course which would mean ruin and soup houses, but that an overwhelming Republican majority in congress should follow the McKinley "idea," revision and correction by friends of the protective tariff principle.

McKinley Ahead of Time.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer (Ind.).

The Leader agrees with the Pittsburgh Gazette that the time has come for a revision of the tariff by its friends. It welcomes the venerable journalistic standpatter from Pennsylvania to the ranks of the young and rejuvenated, who are prepared to revise and rule rather than remain obdurate and retire.—Cleveland Leader.

Really there appears to be a good deal of activity among the reformers. After all, though, these gentlemen have been laggards. William McKinley advised a revision of tariff four years ago, just before his death. He was earnest in his advice that the government and people of the United States had run the protection monopoly to such an extreme that other countries had learned all the ins and outs of the tariff, and that there would have to be a readjustment of schedules. He was for strong reciprocal measures, and believed that there should be immediate action.

The Republican leaders, however, believed that the policy of high and undiscriminating duties would be borne by the patient people for a while longer, and that it would be dangerous to leave the door ajar for a moment. Even the deep sentiment attaching to the death of McKinley did not keep his counsel alive. We have had four more years of the tariff which McKinley, one of the most celebrated apostles of protection, believed had served its time four years ago.

Looks a little now as if he might have a tardy vindication.

Won't Mention Important Matters.

The only state tax paid directly to the state by the individual is four mills on personal property, and three mills of this amount, or three-quarters thereof, is returned by the state to the respective counties to assist in relieving the burden of local taxation. But Mr. Berry and his associates, who are busy denouncing Republican administration in this state, will not mention these important matters.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

"You are joking," responded Dumas, in irritation.

"Not at all."

"For what do you receive such rates per line?"

"For constructing railways," was the answer.—Harper's Weekly.

ROBBERIES BELOW THE DEAD LINE

The Supposedly Best Protected Block in New York Has Been Looted Several Times.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Within the last month there has been a series of burglaries committed in Maiden Lane, between Broadway and Nassau street, which has always been considered the best protected block in Manhattan, because it is the heart of the diamond and jewelry district. Independent of the police a corps of private watchmen is employed to watch the important block, yet with all this supposed vigilance, "crooks" seem to be able to operate without fear of detection. These operations attract attention, especially because they have been conducted below the "dead line," which was drawn for thieves back in Inspector Byrnes' time. It has been the boast of the police ever since that so thoroughly was this imaginary line—which was drawn across the island at Fulton street—patrolled, that the jewelry and financial districts were amply protected.

As a matter of fact, burglaries below the dead line have been rare, chiefly, no doubt, because the detectives were wont to arrest any ex-convict or known bad character, caught prowling within the forbidden precincts. The latest burglary in this section was reported this morning. It was committed at the store of the Derby Silverware Company at 25 Maiden Lane. In this instance there was no window smashing, as was the case in the previous burglary, but entrance was secured by means of false keys. The plunder taken from the show windows and cases is estimated to be worth $1,000. The daring thieves did not carry off any bulky pieces of silverware, but carefully selected such articles as knives and forks, spoons and small plates, which could be carried through the downtown streets without attracting attention.

Big Gorilla Arrives, but is Dead.

The much heralded gorilla from the banks of Kongo, charged with being the most hideous living parody on man ever brought into captivity, which was expected to be the terror of the monkey house up in the Bronx zoo and was expected to arrive today on the steamship Graf Waldersee—well, he arrived all right, but he was a dead simian. Poor Johnny Gorilla's Darwinian soul flitted from him four days ago, while the Graf Waldersee was out on the Atlantic and left him just a black, hairy five hundred pound hunk of monkey flesh at the bottom of his big cage. Johnny was to be the only real live gorilla in captivity, so his untimely end was greatly lamented.

Rare Birds Arrive Safely.

A number of fine pheasants for the zoological park arrived on the Graf Waldersee. The consignment of pheasants is one pair monaul, one pair black-backed kalsege, one pair tommicks, one pair cabots, three pair golden, three pair Lady Amherst, two male soemmering, two pair Siamese, two pair Reeves, two pair versicolor, three pair ringneck, and three pair spotted pigeons, two pair flamingoes, and one red-backed pelican. The rarest of the lot are the impeyans or monauls. Their plumage is like a shining bronze and the male birds are fond of showing their beautiful colors in a difficult dance.

Strike Causes Delay in Mails.

C. H. Walcott, the holder of the contract to carry the city mails, had a long conference this morning with Postmaster Willcox, with a view to finding a remedy for the delay and irregularities in delivery that are resulting from the strike of the drivers of the mail wagons. Irregularities in the New York mail service resulting from the strike have occasioned many complaints from all over the country, and especially from northern New York, New England and Canada. These irregularities are due mainly to the inefficiency of the green drivers put in place of the strikers.

Bad Season for Fishermen.

Skippers of the Fulton Market fleet of fishing smacks say that the summer season has been a disappointment. Bad weather, long trips, small catches, and meager profits, they say, have been their lot. Blue fish have been abnormally scarce, and weakfish, while more abundant, were not as plentiful as usual, and yet have had to take the place of the "blues." As a result prices on both have been higher than for several years. Bluefish, which should sell at six cents a pound wholesale, have averaged 12 cents all summer, while the wholesale price of weakfish has at no time fallen below five cents, the normal price in past seasons having been from four to five cents a pound.

"Doping" Horses Not Unusual.

"The active public would be surprised to know of the extent to which the 'doping' of race horses is carried on today," said a well-known owner of thoroughbreds now staying at the Hoffman house. "In former times the race horse was doped with port wine to screw up his courage, but the modern article is whisky administered more often than not out of a silk hat or a hollow handled cane. It is known for a certainty that the spirit has the desired effect, though I know of two cases this year where it led to awkward results."

Fifteen Minutes to Newark.

"Fifteen minutes to Newark," is the latest rapid transit cry. Providing the necessary permission is obtained, the Interstate Tunnel Company, a new corporation, is to build a tunnel beneath the North river to connect with a new direct line to Newark, which the Public Service Corporation is to operate. A new trolley line, capable of high speed, is to be built between Jersey City and Newark, and, if possible the running time between city hall, Manhattan, and Newark will be reduced to 15 minutes.

ADVENTURES OF OUR NIMROD PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Relates Hunting Experiences in Far West With a Facile Pen.

In the October Scribner's appears a copious article entitled "A Colorado Bear Hunt," which is made up of extracts from the forthcoming book, "Outdoor Pastimes of an American Hunter," by Theodore Roosevelt. It is the story of the president's trip to the far west, which he began in April last. Describing the country in Colorado in which he hunted the president relates that it "was a great, wild country. In the creek bottoms there were a good many ranches; but we only occasionally passed by these, on our way to our hunting grounds in the wilderness along the edge of the snow line. The mountains crowded close together in chain, peak and tableland; all the higher ones were wrapped in an unrent shroud of snow. We saw a good many deer, and fresh sign of elk, but no elk themselves, although we were informed that bands were to be found in the high spruce timber where the snows were so deep that it would have been impossible to go on horseback, while going on foot would have been inconceivably fatiguing. The country was open.

Big Game Scarce.

The dense oak brush and thick growing cedars were hard on our clothes, and sometimes on our bodies.

Bear and cougars had once been very plentiful, but during the last three or four years the cougars have greatly diminished in numbers throughout northern Colorado, and the bears have diminished also, although not to the same extent. The great grizzlies which were once fairly plentiful here are now very rare, as they are in most places in the United States. There remain plenty of the black and brown bears, which are simply individual color phases of the same species."

Black Bear Not Formidable.

In speaking of coming in contact with one of the black bear species, Mr. Roosevelt writes that they are not, "under normal conditions, formidable brutes. If they do charge and get home they may maul a man severely, and there are a number of instances on record in which they have killed men. Ordinarily, however, a black bear will not charge home, though he may bluster a good deal. I once shot one very close up which made a most lamentable outcry, and seemed to lose its head, its efforts to escape resulting in its bouncing about among the trees with such heedless hurry that I was easily able to kill it. Another black bear, which I also shot at close quarters, came straight for my companions and myself, and almost ran over the white hunter who was with me. This bear made no sound whatever when I first hit it, and I do not think it was charging. I believe it was simply dazed, and by accident ran the wrong way, and so almost came into collision with us. However, when it found itself face to face with the white hunter, and only four or five feet away, it prepared for hostilities, and I think would have mauled him if I had not brained it with another bullet; for I was myself standing but six feet or so to one side of it. None of the bears shot on this Colorado trip made a sound when hit; they all died silently, like so many wolves."

Birds of Colorado.

"Mountain mockers and the handsome, bold Arkansas king birds were numerous. The black-tail sage sparrow was conspicuous in the sage brush, and high among the cliffs the white-throated swifts were soaring. There were numerous warblers, among which I could only make out the black-throated gray, Audubon's and McGillivary's. In Glenwood Springs itself the purple finches, house finches and Bullock's orioles were in full song. Flocks of siskins passed with dipping flight. In one rapid little stream we saw a water ousel. Hummingbirds—I suppose the broad-tailed—were common, and as they flew they made, intermittently and almost rhythmically, a curious metallic sound; seemingly it was done with their wings.

But the thing that interested me most in the way of bird life was something I saw in Denver. To my delight I found that the huge hotel at which we took dinner was monopolized by the pretty, musical house finches, to the exclusion of the ordinary city sparrows. The latter are all too plentiful in Denver, as in every other city, and as always, are noisy, quarrelsome—in short, thoroughly unattractive and disreputable. The house finch, on the contrary, is attractive in looks, in song and in ways. It was delightful to hear the males singing, often on the wing."

Tree Climbing Dog.

The president tells an interesting story of the tree-climbing feats of a remarkable dog that accompanied him on his trip. He says: "Both Shorty and Skip could climb trees, and although Skip was too light to tackle a bobcat by himself, Shorty, a heavy, formidable dog, of unflinching courage and great physical strength, was altogether too much for any bobcat. When we reached the place we found the bobcat in the top of a pinon, and Shorty steadily working his way up through the branches and very near the quarry. Evidently the bobcat felt that the situation needed the taking of desperate chances, and just before Shorty reached it out it jumped, Shorty yelling with excitement as he plunged down through the branches after it. But the cat did not jump far enough. One of the hounds seized it by the hind legs and in another second everything was over."

New Man Behind the Law.

Violators of the pure food law in Western Pennsylvania had "better look a-leetle out," as there is a new man at the helm in Pittsburgh, and he, it is said, will rake the grass with a fine-tooth comb in order that no guilty man may be allowed to escape.—Canonsburg Notes.

The Evolution of Berry.

Since Candidate Berry, the Democratic nominee for state treasurer, has received the Prohibition indorsement there should be no difficulty in classifying him as a pomological specimen. He is a water Berry. When he counts his expenses after election he will be a bill-Berry.—Scranton Truth.

This Year Will Be No Exception.

Ohio Democrats say they expect a landslide this year. They have one in Ohio whenever there is an election—and it is generally necessary to dig the Democrats out.—Chicago Record-Herald.

MOTHER.

When I bin swimmin' all day long,
An' had a fight or two,
An' come home in the ev'nin' time
A feelin' mad and blue;
There's just one thing that always seems
My angry thoughts to smother;
An' forget 'em when I see
The smilin' face of mother.

An' father says when he comes home
From troubles on the street;
He sez that gentle smile, it makes
The whole blamed world look sweet.
An' Carlo's dog talk sez so, too,
An' so does sis and brother;
I tell you there ain't nothin' like
The smilin' face of mother.

It kinder brightens every place,
An' I know what I know,
That when I die and go away—
'Cause we all have to go—
I'll need one proof to show me where
I'm at, don't need no other,
I'll know it's Heaven when I see
The smilin' face of mother.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

Capt. Samuel Cochrane of Kittanning, the "rookie" officer in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, slept the sleep of the just in the Colonial last night. It was only last spring that he was elected to the captaincy of Company K of the Sixteenth regiment, but he has now one of the best military organizations in the state. Capt. Cochrane served a long time in the Pennsylvania legislature, and he is better known for his service as a statesman than for his military achievements. Nevertheless, all the hotel attaches know that he is now a company commander and they address him as "the honorable captain."

But Capt. Cochrane is a modest man and he doesn't like this. It's only his modesty and his good manners that prevent him from throwing his bootjack at the impertinent "bellhop" who thus addresses him.

One day early in the summer when Company K was being equipped, Capt. Cochrane came to town to get a sword. At that time it was reported that he wanted a sharp blade so that he could use it in cutting corn in the fall. When he stepped into the Colonial yesterday word was immediately spread around the hostelry that the man from the Armstrong county capital had come to town to put his sword on the grindstone preparatory to his annual job of corn-cutting.

About 11 o'clock last night a bell boy was running along the colonel's corridor with a pitcher of ice water.

"Whar's ye g'wine, man?" shouted the bell boy captain.

"Done got a call fo' ice watah frum de hon'oble cap'n," answered the bell boy.

"Slow dar, man," rejoined his superior. "De hon'oble cap'n done hab a great big sword swung ober de haid of his bed. Be careful, babe."

A few seconds later the door of Capt. Cochrane's room was carefully opened and the bell boy cautiously deposited the pitcher of water upon the floor and ran breathlessly down the hall. Of course, the guest from Kittanning does not know to this moment why such precautions were taken to avoid disturbing peace and quietude of his room. He will not know the real reason until he finds that he was accused of hanging a glittering sword over the head of his bed.

Japan Leaves Big Machinery Orders.

L. J. Hinde, general sales agent of the Toledo Machine and Tool Company, was in Pittsburgh yesterday and tells of immense orders which his concern is receiving from Japan. Five weeks ago an order for 19 carloads of hardware iron was received from the Mikado's government. This is now being shipped to the arsenals of Tokyo and Yokahoma. The material will be manufactured into canteens, harness fixings and for the completion of gun carriages. The probability of peace, Mr. Hinde says, has not caused the Japanese to relinquish the work of preparing war materials in their arsenals.

Old Army Officers Go East.

Lieut.-Col. Harry E. Robinson, who has served 40 years in the United States army, visited his family in Uniontown yesterday after spending two years in the Philippines. Last night he went to Governors Island, New York, where he will next be stationed. Col. Robinson served 30 years with the Fourth cavalry and was an officer in another cavalry command in Luzon.

Mechanics Open Orphans' Home.

A special train bearing 250 members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. will go to Tiffin, O., at 10 o'clock tonight over the Pennsylvania lines. Tomorrow the new asylum built by the Allegheny County Orphans' association will be dedicated at Tiffin. The institution was built at a cost of $8,000 and is one of the most complete maintained by the order. The dedicatory address will be made by John Bash, president of the association. H. J. Riley will deliver the oration and F. M. Hetrick will present the property to the trustees.

"BUSTER BROWN" ABROAD.

People of Switzerland Can't Understand His Ways.

Switzerland is suffering from a plague of "Buster Browns" this season. The small American boy is not always a winning creature, especially when wearing the clothes associated with Mr. R. F. Outcault's comic drawings.

During a recent tour, writes our Geneva correspondent, I came across one "Buster Brown," and sometimes three, at every hotel I stayed at, and the visitors, hotel proprietors and employes were constantly annoyed by their mischievous pranks. The "Busters" are of all sizes and ages, with a large stock of aplomb, brutal frankness and impertinence.

Just before dinner at a large hotel one night the electric light suddenly went out and dinner was delayed nearly an hour. It was discovered later that a "Buster" had filed through the wire for a "lark." On another occasion a couple of "Busters," at the head of a band of children, stripped a hotel garden of all its flowers, and the parents were obliged to pay heavily for the damage. "Busters" of ten took out their fathers' automobiles while the chauffeurs were absent for a moment, and were arrested for furious driving.

At a table d'hote one "Buster" suddenly started howling, and was asked the reason. "I don't like the soup," he shouted, "but mamma forces me to take it. I told the thing I would burn my mouth one day, and now I have done it."—London Daily Mail.

"Tainted Money."

No imagination is active enough to exaggerate the possibilities of the travels and services of money. It passes by devious ways into dark and dubious places. Hands physically clean and morally foul hold it one hour; the next it is grasped by honest fingers begrimed with toil. Sensitive persons, knowing that they must take and use it, prefer to shut their eyes to much that they realize is likely to happen to the money they handle.—Cleveland Leader.

Set a Good Example.

The Pittsburgh Women's Christian Temperance union which refused to allow President Roosevelt to be censured for that alleged beer episode "until the facts became known," set an example for a whole lot of temperance and church societies in Ohio, which have been "resoluting" against Gov. Herrick without knowing anything about the whyfore.—Akron Beacon.

Has a Clear Vision.

We can see no good reason why any Tioga county Republican should vote anything but a straight ticket. The management of local politics calls for hearty indorsement by voters who believe that reform may be accomplished without disrupting the party.—Wellsboro Agitator

SAY MR. PHIPPS OWES $11,000

Managers of Lawrenceville Bath House Claim Donation Is Not Fully Paid.

LAW SUIT IS THREATENING

"I do not think there is any possibility of any legal action being brought. So far as Mr. Phipps is concerned he has paid not only everything he agreed to pay, but even more. If a suit should be brought Mr. Phipps will have a full, complete and satisfactory defense to offer."

This was the statement made by Thomas D. Chantler, local attorney for Henry Phipps, yesterday afternoon after being shown newspaper accounts of the possibility of action being brought by the managers of the public washhouse and baths at Thirty-fifth and Butler streets for $11,000, said to be delinquent in a donation made by Mr. Phipps.

It is said that the women forming the board of managers have laid the matter before Attorney D. T. Watson, and that a petition setting forth the claim has been prepared for presentation. Mr. Watson stated yesterday that the matter was in the hands of Attorney John M. Freeman, who is associated with him. Mr. Freeman admitted that there had been a "misunderstanding" relative to the donation Mr. Phipps was to have given the bath house, but he refused to enter into the legal possibilities of the case.

When plans for the bathhouse were first drawn it is said that Mr. Phipps was consulted, agreed with the plans, and to have written the managers that he would pay half the cost of the building and one-half of the expenses during the first year of operation. All is said to have gone well and Mr. Phipps is said to have regularly contributed toward the erection of the building until it was about half finished. Suddenly contributions are reported to have ceased. The building was completed at a cost of $51,000, less than the bids which Mr. Phipps himself passed upon.

A bill for $11,000, the amount alleged to still be due on Mr. Phipps' donation, was presented at his local office, and is said to have been "turned down." Henry B. Naylor, the Pittsburgh representative of Mr. Phipps, was then applied to, but to no material avail. A meeting of the board of managers of the bathhouse was then held and the conclusion reached to place the matter in the hands of attorneys.

The officers of the bathhouse are: President, Mrs. D. C. Clapp; first vice president, Mrs. John Brown Heron; second vice president, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis; third vice president, Mrs. James H. McIlvaine; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Rowand; secretary, Miss Rose Edsall. Several of the officers, when asked yesterday relative to the status of the case, referred to Mrs. Clapp for any information, but Mrs. Clapp could not be seen.

"We will profit by the experience of the managers of the Lawrenceville bathhouse," said Mrs. Franklin P. Iams last evening, "and will not start building the Soho bathhouse until we have the cash in hand. We have decided that $50,000 will be the minimum cost of the building, and we will not commence work until we have secured that amount, even though it take 10 years. About $20,000 still remains to be raised."

ASKS POPE TO RECEIVE HER.

Wife of Pittsburgh Multimillionaire Said to Seek Conversion.

Information has been received here from the Rev. Father D. S. Phelan of St. Louis, who is now in Rome, stating that he recently presented a Pittsburgh woman, who is a Protestant and wife of a local multi-millionaire, to the pope, and that the woman presented his holiness with her card, upon which the following was written: "Pray, Holy Father, that I may obtain the grace of becoming a Catholic."

Pope Pius X is said to have grasped the hands of the woman with delight, and to have prayed with her for her conversion.

A number of local priests were asked last night regarding the identity of the woman, but all declared that the report was new to them.

Depositors Will Have Attorney.

About 35 persons who have checking and savings accounts with the defunct State bank in Bloomfield, of which John F. Steel is receiver, met last night at the store of Juergen Bros., 4620 Liberty avenue, to discuss the latest complication in the bank's affairs. Henry E. Juergen was appointed a committee of one to employ an attorney to represent the depositors at the hearing to be held in the Dauphin county court on October 10. A fund is also being raised to defray expenses.

Canadian Society to Meet.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Society of Pittsburgh will be held in the rooms, Ninth floor, Bessemer building, tomorrow, at 1:30 p. m. Arrangements will be completed for the general meeting of the society to be held in October. The growth of the organization has been rapid. Any Canadians, residing in this vicinity, who have not already done so, are requested to send their names in to the secretary.

P. R. R. Buys Homestead Property.

It was reported in Homestead yesterday that the Pennsylvania railroad had closed agreements for property along its Monongahela division tracks, between West and Amity streets, Homestead, it being said that hand money was paid to hold the property pending the examination of titles. The property is owned by J. O. Snyder and August Miller, and includes about a square and a half. It is said that the price to be paid is about $100,000.

Burglars Loot Two Homes.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Burglars last night robbed the homes of Tax Collector George B. Brown and F. C. Rose, both in North Pittsburgh street. They took edibles and silverware found on the first floor.

CARRIAGE OVERTURNS AND FALLS INTO CREEK

Mrs. Richard Fennis Sustains Three Broken Ribs and Her Baby's Skull Is Fractured.

Mrs. Richard Fennis and her 20-month-old child, of Edgeworth, were seriously hurt yesterday afternoon, through a carriage being overturned, along a steep embankment near Ambridge. Mrs. Fennis had driven up Big Sewickley creek to a farm owned by her husband. She was in a double-seated carriage, with her five children and her sister-in-law. On the return they had to pass another team, where the narrow road skirts a 15-foot bank along the creek. The horses became frightened and fell over the bank dragging the carriage with them.

All the occupants were thrown into the creek. Mrs. Fennis sustained three broken ribs and her baby's skull was fractured. The others received cuts and bruises, but were not seriously hurt. Mrs. Fennis and the baby were taken to a nearby farm house and doctors were summoned. Mr. Fennis was driving in another rig a short distance from his family. He was overtaken and notified of the accident.

Change in Centennial Program.

Another change has been made in the arrangements for celebrating the High school semi-centennial on Monday. It was decided to have the afternoon meeting in the Fifth Avenue High school building instead of at the Fulton street building, as it was thought the general impression was that the Fifth avenue building was to be used.

POLICE MORALS ARE APPALLING

This Is the Report of the Women Appointed to Investigate the Pittsburgh Bureau.

MORE HELP IS GIVEN THEM

Moral conditions in the Pittsburgh police force have been found to be so appalling that more help is needed to thoroughly probe them.

This was the report made by the committee of three appointed by the Women's Union Missionary society of Allegheny county at the semi-annual meeting of the union yesterday. The women asked for an addition to their committee. This was granted and the committee is now composed of Mrs. R. C. Wylie, chairman; Mrs. M. F. Hutchins, Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, Mrs. D. C. Martin and Mrs. Alexander Hunter.

The investigation was ordered by the society in response to the intense indignation aroused by an alleged assault by Policeman James Kilgallon upon Mrs. M. B. Dick, who was alone and unprotected on Ellsworth avenue late at night.

For the first time in its history the association has made temperance a distinct feature of its work by the election of a temperance secretary, Mrs. Ellen M. Watson. This was followed by the adoption of a resolution, presented by Mrs. H. C. Campbell, urging upon every board of foreign mission the insertion of a pledge to total abstinence in the list of requirements of applicants for appointments to the foreign missionary work. An attack was made on Mormonism by the adoption of resolutions which are being presented to women throughout the country, forming an appeal to congress for the removal of Reed Smoot, on the ground that his presence in the senate is "an insult to every home and to every woman" in the land. This resolution will be signed by the officers of the association representing 14 evangelical religious denominations, composed of all the women in all the churches of these denominations, a body of more than 20,000 women, and a powerful lever in the formation of public opinion.

An address was given by Mrs. James A. Maxwell of McKeesport, on the Baptist World's congress in London. An open parliament of young people's work was conducted, in which representatives of the Reformed Presbyterian, the Lutheran, the Methodist Episcopal, the United Presbyterian and the Presbyterian churches participated. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. S. S. Gilson, Presbyterian; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Walters, Reformed Presbyterian, general synod; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. D. Davis, Presbyterian; treasurer, Miss Anna T. Law, Methodist Episcopal; vice presidents, Mrs. Carrie Fritz, Lutheran; Miss Annal T. Law, Methodist Episcopal; Mrs. Wallace Thorp, Christian; Mrs. Thomas Addenbrook, Congregational; Mrs. Velma Mackey, Episcopalian; vice-president-at-large, Mrs. William C. Anderson, Presbyterian, and temperance secretary, Mrs. Ellen M. Watson, Lutheran.

CIRCUS MULE IS ACCUSED OF INVADING GARDENS

"Teddy," the mule mascot of Burgess Ed. Hickey's Millvale baseball team, has got himself and his master into trouble. Several days ago, it is said, he wandered from his paddock and invaded the truck gardens of the neighbors. Mrs. Karl Elfer sued Burgess Hickey before Alderman Brinker of Allegheny and got judgment for $10 and costs. Hickey refuses to pay and says he will appeal the case. Brinker refuses to furnish a transcript until the costs are paid. It is doubtful what will be the outcome of the affair. "Teddy" used to travel with a circus. Hickey had him for two years and has tried vainly to get rid of him.

Charley Grapewin at Alvin.

At last local lovers of comedy music are to have a chance of witnessing the much-talked-about musical comedy, "It's Up to You, John Henry," which comes to the Alvin next week. The dramatic critics have said some nice things about not only the piece, but of the star, Charles E. Grapewin, as well, and the business it has done so far this season has been enormous. Supporting Grapewin are Miss Anna Chance; the St. Cecelia quartet, the "John Henry Beauty Chorus" and a large company.

"Babes in Toyland."

"Babes in Toyland," which is to be seen in the Nixon theater next week, had a run of nearly 250 performances in New York the first season it was played in that city. It has also had extended engagements in Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. It is a most expensively mounted production so far as scenery and costumes are concerned, and it also has the advantage of having some very good music from the pen of Victor Herbert.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

He was a prominent architect of New York, and had many friends in this city. Mr. Camp was a brother of Mrs. G. F. Muller of Sewickley. He leaves a widow, a son and two daughters.

John C. Christy, one of the best-known residents of the South Side, Beaver county, died yesterday morning at the Beaver Valley General hospital, New Brighton, from pneumonia. Mr. Christy was in his 83d year. He was a farmer and had held the offices of justice of the peace and jury commissioner and poorhouse director. He was a native of Philadelphia.

EVERYTHING

Young people are among the throngs investigating the merits of this wonderful property. Couples who are about to be married or have just been married.

Young people of refinement. Young people who have resolved not to give all their money to the landlords, but to be landlords themselves.

Also young men and women who have no matrimonial ties or prospects. They, too, are present at this wonderful launching of one of the best suburbs that can ever be established. What they save of the salaries which they earn at the stores and offices is not all going into the banks. East Bellevue is getting part of it, because East Bellevue is sure to make them worth money.

Folks who were young fourteen to thirty years ago and bought lots in Bellevue at the prices we are asking for East Bellevue property, have made thousands of dollars on those purchases --enough money, in fact, to get up in the world and be prominent in business. One gentleman who paid $5,400 for a piece of Bellevue land thirty years ago sold it recently for nearly $150,000. Others who bought less Bellevue land at that time have made proportionately as much profit.

Let some old factotum sit down with you to discuss this subject of increases in the value of Bellevue property. Ask him one question after another about the different prominent citizens of Bellevue. Then jot down his answers. They'll be worth holding, for living all along this avenue and that avenue is a number of persons who didn't have much when they settled in Bellevue, but have got piles of money now. Can sign big checks and go to Europe. And how did they get this money? Out of not much else than the increase of Bellevue property.

What's making the surprising demand for East Bellevue property is not alone the great new trolley belt-line, but the fact that East Bellevue is where the Neville Island blast-furnace clouds can never reach, and the location is wonderful in every other respect.

YOU GET ALL THE CONVENIENCES THAT BELONG TO MODERN CITY LIFE. YOU GET EVERYTHING---EVERYTHING.

The streets are graded and sewered. There is gas, and electric lights are now being installed. Within thirty days the famous Bellevue water will be piped to every lot on the plan.

Most of the lots are 40x150 feet. All have building restrictions,

The prices range from $75 to $1,000, on terms of 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly, with 10 per cent off for cash.

And in considering these prices and terms don't forget our offer of architect's services free of all charge. Also of our free gift to purchasers of Provisional Premium Bonds, provisioned to earn for you 5 to 25 per cent of purchase price of any lot that you may buy.

FUGITIVE TIRES AND SURRENDERS

Samuel C. Wilkinson, Under Indictment for Alleged Jury Fixing, Gives Himself Up.

CONFESSION IS PROMISED

Samuel C. Wilkinson of Turtle Creek, who is under indictment on a charge of embracery, and who forfeited his bail three months ago by failing to appear in court for trial, surrendered himself yesterday and was placed in the county jail.

Wilkinson was picked as a juryman at the second trial of Capt. Wilson of the Allegheny police, who was tried for extortion. Before the case went to the jury James Haywood, another juryman, told that Wilkinson had tried to influence him in favor of Wilson. Alderman Teole held Wilkinson for court and a true bill was found against him. He was released on $1,000 bail and immediately disappeared.

It has been known in the district attorney's office for several days that Wilkinson contemplated giving himself up, but about the court house, where the man is well known, no such information had forecasted his sudden appearance in criminal court. Chief County Detective Robert G. Robinson recognized Wilkinson when he entered the court room, where Judge Marshall Brown was finishing the morning session. Deputy Sheriff Joseph E. Gilbert was summoned and brought the process for the arrest of Wilkinson.

The latter says he is sick and for weeks has been suffering from malaria. He has little to say except that he went west after leaving Pittsburgh and that he feels inclined to go through with the case against him. Apparently he is sore at two of his friends whom, he intimates, deceived him and threatened to tell of his whereabouts.

Wilkinson was taken over to jail and was examined by Jail Physician A. V. Chessrown, who says the man is suffering with malaria, but is not in serious condition.

It was said about the court house yesterday that Wilkinson had made a confession to District Attorney Stewart and John C. Haymaker, in which he implicates several Allegheny men. Neither the district attorney nor Mr. Haymaker will admit that this story is true, but both seem pleased at Wilkinson's return.

Because of the man's ill condition his attorney, Rody P. Marshall, made application for his release on bail. A conference was had with the district attorney and it was agreed to let him out on $3,000. This was secured and Wilkinson was given his freedom.

If there is truth in the rumor that Wilkinson has told or intends to tell all he knows about jury fixing about the court house there is likely to be some sensational statements made that will result in the arrest of several persons whose names were not linked with the Allegheny graft cases. Over about Allegheny city hall the report of Wilkinson's return did not appear to be glad tidings and little was said about it.

Mr. Haymaker said last night he did not know how soon Wilkinson could be put on trial, but that there would be as little delay as possible. Attorney John Marron is out of the city, but is expected home today or tomorrow. When he arrives he and Mr. Haymaker will talk over the trial with Maj. Stewart and arrange to have Wilkinson's case put on the court calendar as soon as possible.

Hotel Yoder.

Owing to unavoidable delays the work on Hotel has not progressed as was desired, and as it had been expected at the commencement of the building, it should have been completed some three months ago. Parties wishing to take advantage of the accommodations have been disappointed and are still waiting for an opportunity to make selection of room. We have concluded to open the dormitory portion of Hotel at once and finish other departments as soon as possible—that is, the dining room, bath room, library, etc.

It is understood the Hotel is for the accommodation of men only, at $1.75 per week or 25c per night. This secures a single room with all conveniences, every room having an outside window, insuring plenty of fresh air, and guests are entitled to all privileges of Hotel. Toilet and wash-rooms on each floor. Electric light and steam heat.

Although the rates are very low, it must not be considered that the Hotel will not be first-class in every particular, as the intention of the proprietor and owner is to make and keep it equal to any in the city. The location is very convenient, being within three squares of the Court House, No. 1112 Forbes St., near Magee St.

Centervue

"BEST FOR YOU"

"There may be some substitute for a home of your own, but so far it has not been discovered. To the man or woman who harbors the 'home idea' Centervue, Wilkinsburg's most accessible and delightful residence district, is respectfully submitted."

THIS is our brief introduction to one of the finest properties ever offered hereabouts to investors for home's sake.

We first want to tell you that Centervue is in Wilkinsburg's First Ward. If you know Wilkinsburg, you know what First Ward property is—fine through and through. A step from Wood street takes you to the intersection of John street and Singer Place—one of the prettiest spots in all Wilkinsburg. The picture in this ad, drawn from photograph, tells in an accurate way the kind of homes clustering around this cozy triangle.

From Singer Place You Reach Our Private Entrance in Ten Seconds

The house to the left in the picture borders our fine granolithic entrance, and is but 1½ minutes' walk from Hamilton or Frankstown avenue car lines. Honest, now, would you, could you, wish for a more accessible location?

But it's Centervue itself that delights. True, the good neighborhood speaks well for what's to come, but best of all is the splendid property that lies nestling above the pretty scene the picture shows—and that's Centervue. Partly rolling terrace; but mostly broad and level, it at once recommends itself. Wilkinsburg folks have been rambling under its magnificent trees for years; to them its park-like charm has always been attractive, but to the average outsider a glimpse of its beauties is a revelation. The old spring on Centervue is notably fine, better, indeed, than the well-known "Howe Spring" at Fifth avenue and Highland. There's mighty little sentiment in the fact that we've kept intact most of the natural charm of Centervue. We've done it because we know it will help to bring and keep you here.

"The air of privacy and seclusion about Centervue is in no wise lessened by the thought that one is at the same time close to busy streets."

Centervue Close to Most Everywhere and Everybody

1½ minutes from Hamilton and Frankstown cars; 2 squares from Verona cars; 5 minutes walk from East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg and West Wilkinsburg and Penn avenue cars; 5 minutes' walk to Wilkinsburg's business center; 8 minutes' easy walk to P. R. R. depot, with 87 trains daily; close to schools, with no dangerous tracks for your children to cross; close to churches of all denominations.

"It is part of our contract with all purchasers to put on this plan, at no additional cost to purchaser, all improvements to conform with the street regulations of Wilkinsburg."

ALL IMPROVEMENTS GUARANTEED

City Water, Gas, Paved Streets, Granolithic Sidewalks, Stone Curbs, Sewers, Electric Light.

This is no fiction. We give bond to make these improvements. In no part of Wilkinsburg will there be any better. The street regulations are being followed in every detail. Everything above to be completed at no additional cost to the buyers' purchase price. All such modern conveniences as Police and Fire Protection, Free Delivery, etc., will be enjoyed by the residents of Centervue.

OPENING SALE TOMORROW.

This date is set for the formal opening. You can come and are urged to come at any time—sooner the better. We have but 153 lots to sell. Enquiries are developing every day. It would be no surprise if all of Centervue will be snapped up by home-hungry buyers within 5 days. Salesmen on the plan daily. Write or telephone and we'll send our big Auto for you without delay.

Wilkinsburg Property on the Upward Bound

Vacant frontage is noticeably scarce, and every day adds to valuations in this most desirable district. Remember, Centervue is close to the really choice section of the town.

Center street runs directly through our property, and Center street lots bordering on Centervue can't be touched under $65 a foot.

Centervue Lots Now $950 Upwards

That they are from $20 to $25 a foot less than surrounding property is a most forceful reason why you should see them. No East End proposition will hold your interest when you see what Centervue really is. It will be the old, old story of opportunities neglected if you miss going out soon.

A Special Hint to Those Occupied at Swissvale, East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding

87 trains daily stop at Wilkinsburg. All street car lines come close to Centervue. An 8 minutes' walk from the depot takes you to any part of the plan. Now, why not act the part of wisdom and decide on Centervue?

Bright, shrewd buyers will see it that way.

There will never again be an equal opportunity in this most desirable district.

Think it over and act quickly.

Quickest Approach to Centervue is from Singer Place via John or Hill Street

It is also easily reached from Center street, which runs through the plan. Equally easy access from Mill street. It is central from almost any point.

TAKE HAMILTON OR FRANKSTOWN CARS TO JOHN OR HILL STREET.

FEW FRESHMEN AT PRINCETON

Not Many First-Class Youngsters Show Up for the Varsity Football Eleven.

AT THE OTHER COLLEGES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 21.—With the official opening of college, the athletic pendulum takes a somewhat longer swing each day and there is evident a slow but steady increase in the size of the squad that turns out for afternoon practice. The freshman contingency, however, remain conspicuous only by their absence, and the college is beginning to marvel that a class reputed to be the largest that has ever entered Princeton should be so barren in good gridiron material.

The most that can be counted of freshmen on the field so far would not much more than reach a dozen, and of these there are only a few that seem likely to be of much use. The order of the day was about the same as usual, and the work was mostly of a very elementary kind. Coaches Hillebrand, Kelly and Short worked hard on the squad, and Burke, last year's quarterback, spent most of the time trying to teach some raw men a bit of his own skill. There has been a good deal of talk floating about to the effect that Kafer is coming back, but football men deny the truth of the story. Stannard is back and will play this year on the scrub, as he is disqualified from regular games until next year.

A list of freshmen candidates was given out today, but at present there seems to be every prospect that those that would have been of any value have failed to pass the entrance examination. The list as it now stands is as follows:

Moscrip, Mercersburg; O'Brien, Exeter; Frier, Hill school; Dillon, Andover; Waller, Lawrenceville; Breeze, Groton; Wasserman, Columbia grammar school.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—With the arrival of several candidates who are built of the right material, Cornell's football prospects took another boost today. Among the timber is Phipps, a 248-pounder, who makes an excellent mate for the giant Thompson, and will add more weight to the already remarkable showing for the three middle positions, Phipps and Thompson at guards, and Wilder at center. Most of the afternoon was devoted to hard tackle practice. No line-up was held, but nine squads of backs were given some rather lively signal running around, while the linemen were being instructed by Coaches Kent and Larkin.

Paten, a quarterback at Lawrenceville last year, who showed up today, was tried with one of the back field squads and attracted considerable attention. Monroe, a tackle, and McCutchin of Shadyside school of Pittsburgh, were also among the new arrivals. A most unusual incident occurred this afternoon when Howe, a sophomore, who reported for the first time, was overcome by sunstroke. He had traveled by train all night and was feeling ill when he went on the field. Although he revived quickly he will not play again for several days.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Don Mackay of New York city, a candidate for the Yale football eleven last year, returned today to play upon the second team and help develop a team, although he has been declared ineligible for a place on the varsity eleven himself, owing to four years in university baseball. Mackay's willingness to play under such conditions drew praise from the coaches. Arthur Erwin and Phil Smith, the heaviest candidates thus far reporting this season, came out today, weighing just over 200 pounds. Both will try for center rush.

The candidates were worked for an hour, both during the morning and afternoon, at tackling the dummy, running down punts and signal drill. The first lineup for scrimmaging may be held tomorrow or Saturday.

W. & J.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—There was consternation in the Washington and Jefferson college football camp today when the manager of the West Virginia Wesleyan university at Buckhannon telegraphed that he could not have his team here for the opening date Saturday. Manager Wicks immediately went after another team and succeeded in landing Bethany college, West Virginia, for Saturday. Coach Piekarski stated today that he would not change his tactics in the practice until he had seen what the men could do in a regular game. Many players will be given a try-out in the initial contest, and then practice will settled down until the Princeton contest a week hence. The practice today was the hardest of the week. A squad of more than 30 men in uniform was on the field.

U. of P.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The nearest approach to real football yet on Franklin field was furnished by the Pennsylvania candidates this afternoon. After the men had taken their preliminary work in tackling the dummy, punting and other rudimentals, the coaches picked out a first and second eleven and had them practice blocking attempts at goals from the field. The ball was given to the second team on the 20-yard line. Quarterback Lubey was stationed on the 30-yard line and instructed to try for a field goal, while the first team endeavored to block his efforts. This work was continued for 10 minutes, during which time Lubey succeeded in sending the ball between the uprights twice. Most of the other attempts were either wide or blocked altogether.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Harvard's football practice today showed conclusively that Bill Reid fully understands the importance of a kicking game under the new rules and intends to play it this year. Almost the entire session, morning and afternoon, was taken up with punting.

In the morning formations to prevent the blocking of punts were rehearsed. In the afternoon different kickers were tried out and the ends and backs practiced catching punts. Hanley, Foster, Lockwood, Leonard and Brill are showing up brilliantly, all punting 45 yards on an average, and are improving each day. Plesanton, the big crew man, came out today. He is trying for tackle. Crafts, a negro, who has earned quite a reputation as a sprinter, also came out.

W. U. P.

CONNEAUT LAKE, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—In the afternoon practice today the scrubs were again lined up against the varsity. The varsity, with Billy Rice, Schmidt and McCormick behind the line, played havoc with the lighter scrubs, scoring two touchdowns in several minutes of play. Rice was then shifted to the second team and Capwell was put at fullback on the varsity. The work of Rice at fullback for both scrubs and varsity and the defensive playing of the elder Banbury and F. Griggs were the features of the afternoon practice.

A welcome arrival tonight was Turner, the new 136-pound center. With Frye on the injured list Leidenroth has been bearing the brunt of the work at this position lately.

Lehigh.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Lehigh had her first football scrimmage this afternoon. It was a very hard practive and lasted fully half an hour. Neither side scored. Capt. Herman's team gained more ground, being strong on the offensive, but signally weak on defense. "Scrap" Johnson, who played on the famous 1904 team, was on the field today and assisted in coaching the line men. Coach Newton put Herman and Bachman at work at drop and place goal kicking. Place was out today. He will try for full back. The training table was started today and Sheridan, Van Reemen, Pyne, Scott and Herman were told to report.

At Chicago—Northwestern university, 32; Evanston High school, 0. Time, 25 minutes.

Harry McChesney Is Home.

Harry McChesney of the East End, right fielder on the Milwaukee team, which finished second in the American association, is home. He stole 35 bases and scored 100 runs. McChesney played football on local strong teams a few years ago, but he has not decided whether he shall play the game any more. Mrs. McChesney accompanied him on all the trips made by Milwaukee this season.

Young People can make no better investment than to join the Night Classes of the Iron City College. They begin Monday, Sept. 25th.

GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.
New York at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.

The Pittsburgh and Philadelphia teams broke even in a double-header at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The features were the effective pitching of Pittinger in the first game and Lynch in the second, and the fine work in the outfield of Magee and Thomas. Pittinger held the Pirates down to four singles in the first and Lynch gave the Phillies only four in the second. In the two games Magee accepted 15 chances in left field, nine in the first and six in the second; Thomas accepted 11 chances, three in the first and eight in the second. Both outfielders were lightning fast and each made several sensational catches that brought them well-earned applause. In the eight innings of the second game Thomas ran into deep center and nabbed a ball off Lynch's bat that seemed good for a three-bagger, if not a home run. In the first game Magee's greatest feat was catching a foul fly off Flaherty's bat nearly against the left field bleachers.

It was Manager Duffy's intention to pitch his new man, Jim Brady, whom he secured from the Clayton (N. J.) team, in the first game, but the Phillies, by hitting Phillippe timely, ran up three tallies in the first inning. This looked like a good lead and Duffy switched Charley Pittinger into line, although the umpire had announced Brady's name. Pittinger was a little wild at the start and forced in a run by giving a base on balls with the corners loaded. A high fly to Thomas by Brain scored another. After the first inning Pittinger settled down and pitched a strong game. In the third Leach hit through Devlin for a single, went to third on a single by Hillebrand to left and kept on toward home when Magee fumbled the hit. After the third inning only one Pirate got as far as second base. In the fifth Leach hit for two bases and tried to make it three, but was thrown out from Magee to Courtney.

In the meantime the Phillies hit Phillippe so freely that after the fifth inning Flaherty was substituted. The Phillies, however, maintained their lead to the end, winning with runs to spare.

In the second game Mike Lynch was the whole show. For six innings he held the Phillies down to one hit, and only two men reached second base. In the seventh, after Magee struck out, Titus lifted the ball over Clymer's head for three bases and scored a moment later on a single by Bransfield. That was the only run secured by the visitors and it was also the only time they reached third base.

Brady made his debut in the National league and Munson caught in Pittsburgh for the first time in his life. The Pirates did not pulverize the new man by any means, but hit him often and timely enough to win out with ease. Ganley, Leach and Clymer found Brady rather easy. They scored four of the six runs and drove in the other two, Leach sending Gibson across the plate in the third and Clymer knocking in Ritchey in the eighth.

The Pirates gained a lead in the third inning, increased it in the fifth and never for a moment took the Phillies' dust. They gave Lynch errorless support, and so well did the ex-collegian handle himself that several times he was compelled to tip his cap in acknowledgement of boisterous approval by the spectators. ## RUGH TO COACH HIGH SCHOOL; COLLEGE NEWS

Doc. Rugh, quarterback on the W. U. P. eleven last year, was yesterday engaged to coach the Pittsburgh High school football candidates this fall. There were five applicants for the position, but Rugh was the choice of a special committee after the executive committee had failed to elect. Rugh will take charge of the candidates this afternoon, when practice will be started in earnest. Rugh played on the Gettysburg college team four years and on the W. U. P. two years.

Charlie Duffy, the popular first baseman, was yesterday elected captain of the Pittsburgh College sophomore football team. He will play right half. Frank Nellan was chosen manager. He will coach and play fullback. Steve Laux, tackle; Ray Dowling, quarterback, and Frank Stack, right end, are the old men eligible for the team. Eugene Dowling, tackle on last year's Pittsburgh High school team, who is ineligible for High school this fall on account of a low grade, may play a half on the sophomore eleven. Schuey of the Kittanning academy will be a candidate for tackle.

The Athletic association of the Allegheny High school yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Dr. H. Groth; secretary, Frank T. McClure; treasurer, Harry J. Fincke. The athletic council will be composed of the above officers, together with Paul D. Wright, E. Weger, '06; B. Weger, '07; Gray, '08, and McDonald, '09. Paul D. Wright was elected manager of the football team; Buka, '06, assistant manager. A coach will be secured.

W. H. Knox of Allegheny, the broadjumper, is a candidate for the Yale back field. "Dutch" Levine, the former Andover halfback, has joined the Yale squad, too. Wiley, another freshman from Hill school, is showing up well at punting.

Frank Reiter, last year on the Princeton squad, has gone to Wesleyan and will play on that eleven. Hampson, another Princeton man, who failed to make the team last year, is playing half at Wesleyan also.

Coach Stagg of Chicago has invented the "octopus" play. No one but himself knows what it is, but he promises to spring it in the early games.

Giants Win the Game.

The Philadelphia Giants today took the first of the exhibition games from the Johnstown team by a score of 11 to 8. The game was one of the most terrific slugging matches ever pulled off on the local diamond. The Johnnies touched big Rube Foster, the crack pitcher of the dusky champions, 17 times, but were unable to make their hits count for as much as the Giants'. After pitching great ball for seven innings Pearson became an easy proposition and six hits netted five runs in the eighth. Score:

Vought's Error Is Costly.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Vought's error was responsible for the loss of the game to Piedmont at that place today, three runs following it, otherwise the side would have been retired. Both Maddox and McConnell were hit freely. Cumberland's recently imported talent showed up great in stick work. It was one of the hardest fought battles in the history of this region. Score:

|---|---|---|---|---|

FIRST DAY'S PLAY OF OPEN TOURNEY

F. Brand, J. Dingwall, C. Rowe and A. Gourlay (Pittsburgh Professionals) Show Up Well.

GARDNER AND SMITH LEAD

HAMILTON, MASS., Sept. 21.—With scores of 15 each, Stewart Gardner and Alec. Smith, the professionals at Garden City and Nassau, led the field of more than three score players at the Myopia Hunt club today, in the first of the two days' play of the open golf championship of the United States.

Arthur Smith of Columbus, O., the western champion, Alec. Campbell of Brookline and Gilbert Nichols of Denver were tied with 158. ter J. Travis, the former amateur champion

Willie Anderson, the present champion; Walter J. Travis, the former amateur champion; Joe Lloyd, the 1897 winner, and P. F. Barrett of Boston were all tied at 161.

The Myopia course was in superb condition. As a rule the driving was long and sure, the iron work deadly, but the greens proved the stumbling block. Long puts were singularly scarce for such true greens.

Arthur Smith, who finished third after the 36 holes of play of the first day, was formerly professional at Edgewood Golf club. Charles Rowe of Beaver Valley Country club and F. Brand of the Allegheny Country club each had 165. A Gourlay of Edgewood Golf club, 170, and Jack Dingwall of Edgeworth club, 172.

The remaining 36 holes will be played tomorrow.

Badel Causes Trouble.

SOMERSET, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The Somerset team of the Somerset County league in an eight-inning game defeated the Johnstown team of the Tri-State league here today, 7 to 6. Firstbaseman Badel of Johnstown, in the ninth, was hit by a ball pitched by Adams and then threw the ball toward Adams and went to first. He was ruled out of the game by Umpire Uhl and later taken in custody by Sheriff Andrew J. Coleman and Deputy Joseph R. Joy. The Johnstown team left the field. There is considerable talk of Somerset entering the Tri-State league. The score:

| Somerset | 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 7—7 | 8 | 3 |
| Johnstown | 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—6 | 8 | 5 |

A famous New York Hatter makes
Oetting's Hats

Errors in selecting the proper styles for men occur frequently in some stores, and you can see the result of these errors if you will observe the hats on some of the men whom you meet daily.

For instance, here is a sedate and somewhat portly business man, very incongruously topped with a jaunty derby suitable for a college youth.

There goes a nicely clothed young man whose faultless attire proclaims the fact that he is a patron of some swell tailor shop, "but gracious goodness!! who sold him that hat?" His appearance is marred by wearing a hat suitable for his grandfather.

Then there is the man with a hat one size too large, the man with the diminutive and the fellow with the enormous wide brim, and so I could go on ad libitum—but let these few instances suffice.

Come to either of our stores and we will select the correct style for you and fit it properly.

Best hats are $4 and $3.
Next best $2.25 and $1.75.

BOWLERS' LEAGUE READY TO START

Twelve Clubs of Bowlers Now Comprise the Make-Up of the Organization.

LATEST ABOUT PIN KNIGHTS

At a meeting of the Bankers Bowling league held last night at the rooms of Pittsburgh chapter, American Institute of Bank Clerks, three more teams were accepted as members of the league, which is now composed of the following 12 teams: Diamond National, Mellon National, Lincoln National, Farmers Deposit National, German National Second National, Keystone National, Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Germania Savings, Colonial Trust, Guarantee Title and Trust, and Commonwealth Trust.

It was decided to limit the league to 12 teams for this season, and a schedule is now being prepared, to begin about October 11. The Bankers will play on Wednesday evening of each week, the same as last year, and the six contests in progress at the same time should make the third floor of the Club alleys an interesting place to spend the evening.

The boys are all getting in training, and some assert with confidence that the Farmers will not have a walk-over this year as they had last. However, no hard feelings are held against the Farmers' team, their work of last season in taking most of the trophies being forgiven.

President Arnold announced that one trophy has already been offered the league to be contested for this year—a magnificent loving cup, by Thomas E. Wood, Pittsburgh representative of William F. Murphy & Sons Co. of Philadelphia.

On the Federal alleys last night in the two-man team league, Voltz and Schad took three out of five games from Gardner and Logue. Scores:

| Totals | 408 | 294 | 303 | 322 | 326—1653 |

The Braddock team took all three games from the McKeesport team on the Braddock alleys last night. W. Seng had high score of 193. Scores:

The members of the North Braddock team are requested to report at the Braddock alley this evening at 7 o'clock.

There was a meeting of the Mercantile league on the club alleys last night, and the following officers were elected: H. A. W. Klock, president; E. M. Peters, vice president; J. B. Lambie, secretary; G. Blackshire, treasurer. It was agreed that on Tuesday nights the weekly games should be rolled. There will be 12 teams in the league and the following were admitted: T. C. Jenkins & Co., J. G. Bennett & Co., Wm. G. Johnston & Co., McCreary & Co., Hardy-Hayes Co., Pickering "Nuf Ced," Pittsburgh Supply Co., Boggs & Buehl, Jos. Horne Co., C. C. ### Only One Race at West Alexander.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Straight heats were the order in the only race of the day at the West Alexander fair today. The closing day was the largest attended of the week, and probably the largest in the history of the fair association, fully 10,000 people passing through the gates. The ladies' driving contest did not take place on account of the failure of those entered to appear. The only event was the mixed race. Summary:

BASEBALL CHATTER.

Brooklyn has won but one game at Cincinnati this season.

Philadelphia yesterday defeated the Pirates for only the fifth time this season.

Fred Clarke did not play yesterday, but did strenuous work on the coaching lines.

Two umpires were in action, and not a kick marred the smoothness of the games.

Del Howard is still a sick man and Homer Hillebrand subbed for him at first base.

H. H. Z., Pittsburgh—New York will not play in Pittsburgh on any Saturday this season.

It was the first appearance in Pittsburgh of Broady and Munson, Philadelphia's new battery.

M. V., Youngstown, O.—Brooklyn, under the management of Ed Hanlon, won the pennant three times.

New York and Chicago will come together at Chicago today. So far this season the Giants have won but three out of eight games in the Windy City.

ASPHALT COMPANY GAVE AID TO REVOLUTIONISTS

This Is Charge Made by Venezuelan Government and Substantiated by Testimony in Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The disposition of $101,000, which the government of Venezuela claims was paid by the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company to General Mates to buy a steamship in Europe, with which to prosecute a revolution against the Venezuelan government, was inquired into today during the taking of testimony in the case of the Venezuelan government against the asphalt company.

Thomas H. Thomas, president of the asphalt company in 1901, said that in November, 1901, $101,000 was paid to a New York law firm. Asked whether it was charged on the books of the asphalt company to an account known as the "Government account," he replied: "It probably was." The counsel for the Venezuelan government said his country intended to prove that this money went to the purchase of a revolutionary steamship.

L. A. Kuhn, who was in the employ of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company, at the time of the revolution, said he had seen the revolutionists given both money and food by his company.

EQUINOX SEASON HERE.

All Kinds of Weather Can Be Looked for During the Next Few Weeks.

With the coming of the vernal equinox period, which begins on September 21, residents of this section can look forward to experiencing some of the wonderful phases of weather peculiar to this section. The first sign yesterday of the equinox was the strong wind which blew up last evening. For a time it blew at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

Pleasant days and comfortable nights have been prevailing for the last few days, and although the mercury is working its way upward, it has so far not been able to get to the high mark made early in the week. The maximum temperature yesterday was 73 at 3 p. m. At 8 p. m. the mercury had fallen back to 68 degrees. The temperature at midnight Wednesday was 57 degrees, 13 below the figures recorded at the local weather office 24 hours previous.

Morningside Will Celebrate.

The Morningside Civic association met in the Morningside school last night and decided to hold a carnival to celebrate the opening of the new car line which will run from Aspinwall bridge through Morningside to the East End, beginning about October 15. A committee was appointed to confer with the East End, Aspinwall and Sharpsburg boards of trade.

Fulton Turns in Report.

Delinquent Tax Collector Andrew Fulton yesterday reported to Controller John B. Larkin his collections for August. The collections amount to $114,097.42. This leaves a balance for the city of $69,862.77, after deducting $37,235.45 for water rents and some other expenses.

DR. STRONG IS IN THIRD PLACE

Evelyn Bird Fails to Win Out in the Concluding Heat of 2:15 Trot.

FAST GOING AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21.—At the Grand Circuit races on the Columbus track today, 18 heats were trotted and paced, with an average of less than 2:08. Wentworth's victory in the 2:06 trot was the most exciting. George G. took the first heat and led past the half in the second. There he broke and Wentworth nosed out Dr. Strong, the favorite. Wentworth took a record of 2:04½ when he won this heat. The time is the fastest of the year and equals the race trotting record of last season. Time by quarters: :31, 1:01½, 1:32, 2:04½.

All the finishes of the 2:08 pace were neck to neck ones. Citation won the first two heats from Don Carr, the even-money favorite, and Peruna. The latter horse rushed and won the third heat.

Mainland, the favorite at evens over the entire field of the 2:12 trot, won after Del Norte had taken the first heat. Both horses took records of 2:09¼. Summaries:

New Men Show Up Well.

Pittsburgh Lyceum had its usual Thursday evening practive last night. Many new candidates showed up, among whom were Dick Trump of W. and J., and Al Evans of Allegheny college, who were tried at quarter with success. Timmons, the W. and J. tackle, will report Tuesday. Reible, late of Purdue, has signified his intention of joining the squad next Tuesday.

BEQUEATHS HIS BRAIN AND ARM TO INSTITUTE

Gen. Isaac Wistar Makes Unique Disposal of Parts of His Body. To Be Cremated.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Under the provisions of the will of General Isaac J. Wistar, the well-known financier and railroad man, which was admitted to probate today, the bulk of the estate together with the brain and the right arm of the testator is bequeathed to the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology of the University of Pennsylvania, which he founded.

General Wistar also bequeathed to the institute weapons he used in the civil war along with trophies, pictures and various pieces of furniture. After bequeathing an aggregate sum of $50,000 to his brother and four sisters, $3,000 to a niece and $4,000 to his housekeeper, General Wistar leaves the residue of his estate to the Wistar institute.

The paragraph in the will disposing of his body is as follows:

> "I bequeath to the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology my right arm, said to be a desirable specimen of gunshot anchylosis, and also my brain, both to be removed by said institute promptly after my death and I direct my executor, before performing any other act of administration, to cause the remainder of my body to be cremated with all convenient dispatch, without ostentation or unnecessary expense and to deposit the ashes thereof in an urn or other small vessel of inexpensive character, to be marked and sealed up, in the Mural crypt or recess prepared for that purpose in the main hall of the said Wistar Institute's Museum building."

PARKER MAKES THE JAP QUIT AT JIU JITSU STYLE

Wins in 57 Minutes After Pulling His Opponent Around and Tying Him in a Knot.

Harvey Parker, the wrestler, last night in the Birmingham Turner hall defeated Prof. K. Wasa Fukuoka in 57 minutes at the jiu-jitsu style. In this style of wrestling jackets are worn, but falls do not count. When one of the contestants cries "enough" the other wins the fall. For half an hour Parker and the Jap tugged away without either getting an advantage. However, Parker allowed his opponent to tire himself out and then set to work to make him yell. He vainly tried to secure the hammer lock, but the Jap deftly eluded him. Then he got the Jap by the legs and shoved him around the mat wheelbarrow fashion. But the professor never squealed. Finally Parker seemingly tied him in a knot and apparently kept pressing the knot tighter and tighter. Then Fukuoka admitted defeat by crying "enough." It was to have been best two out of three "surrenders," but the professor strained a ligament in his leg and was unable to continue.

Parker said he always declared jiu-jitsu to be a fake and he proved it last night. Prof. Fukuoka is considered the most advanced jiu-jitsu expert in America, but he was unable to do anything with Parker.

With Parker were Fred Beels and Charles Reinecke. Beels is now matched to meet Big Rogers at Cleveland on October 13 for a guaranteed purse of $500. Beels is a wonderful wrestler and Parker speaks admiringly of his knowledge of the art.

Bedworth Junior was entered yesterday in the free-for-all pace, and he made such a showing in the first and second heats that the judges asked the driver to go for the record in the third. The time was announced as 2:09½, and there was much cheering. Summaries:

SOCIETY

ONE of the smartest affairs of the early fall was the entertainment at which Mrs. Orlando Metcalf of Dallas avenue, Homewood, was hostess yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Daniel Hand of Fortress Monroe, a daughter of the hostess, who is now her house guest, was the guest of honor, and those entertained were the friends of Mrs. Hand and her mother from Oakmont, where the Metcalfs formerly lived. Enough guests were present to require the use of six tables at which six-hand euchre was the game played. The prizes were carried off by Mrs. James M. Hamilton, Miss Susan Vallante Tiers and Miss Margaret Scully. The decorations were particularly effective, huge clusters of Twentieth Century dahlias in autumn tints being used. The autumn idea was further carried out in the ices and confections which were molded as fruits and vegetables now in season. Mrs. Metcalf will again entertain this afternoon, when she will have Miss Laura Gertrude Ablett as her guest of honor in addition to Mrs. Hand. Miss Ablett is to be married on October 4 to Dr. J. M. Fetterman, a nephew of Mrs. Metcalf. Fancy work will be the diversion this afternoon.

Johnston-Gray.

At the supper which followed the wedding of Miss Amanda Marie Johnston and Guy McCandless Gray last evening, the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. David Gardner, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, were seated at the bridal table. The guests at this table also included Mr. Gray's mother, Mrs. E. J. Gray of the East End; Dr. and Mrs. W. McCandless Johnston, the bride's parents; the Rev. J. L. Milligan, the officiant; and the members of the bridal party, Miss Martha Way Johnston, maid of honor; Miss Mary Gertrude McCandless, Miss Bessie Bingham and Miss Burt Sample Johnston, bridesmaids; O. C. Green of Cleveland; best man; Frank Ramsey, Robert B. Petty, Jr., and Palmer B. Chambers, the ushers. The young people were married at the home of the bride's parents at Riverside, Woods Run, Allegheny, the bride wearing a dainty gown of white chiffon, lace trimmed, and a tulle veil. She carried white roses and about her neck was a necklace with a diamond pendant. The maid of honor was in white lace and carried maiden hair ferns, with a small bunch of white roses at one side, while the bridesmaids, in green taffeta, carried clusters of white asters. These flowers, with roses, ferns and palms, carried out the color scheme of green and white in the decorations. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gray will live in Greenville, Pa. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Sheets of Steubenville, O.; Miss Jane Way of Lisbon, O.; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cooke of Bridgeport, Mrs. D. Gardner and Mrs. Rose Aten of Paris, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Stewart and Mrs. A. Lockyer of New Cumberland, W. Va.

Miss Myrtle Price of South Negley avenue will open the round of gaiety with a euchre at her home next Wednesday evening. Eleven tables will be called into play for six-hand euchre. Miss Jean McCloy of Stanton avenue will follow Miss Price's affair with a luncheon for the girls in the bridal party on Thursday afternoon, and on the following afternoon Miss Estelle Brown will give a five hundred party at her home in Rippey street. It is to be a telephone affair, and, although informal, will be large, 80 invitations having been issued.

Home from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. King returned from New York on Wednesday and are now at the Hotel Schenley. They will remain in Pittsburgh until the first of next week, when they expect to leave for Chicago, to be members of a house party which Dr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Stewart will entertain. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. King took place at the Schenley last Thursday evening, the bride being Miss Katherine L. Gilleland.

Montgomery-Meyer.

STOMACH DISTRESS

MANY PAINFUL SYMPTOMS CAUSED BY POISONOUS GASES.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Tone Up the Digestive Organs, Restore Nerve Force and Cure Indigestion.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested, decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach and cause interference with other organs, especially with the action of the heart and lungs. These gases have other ill effects. They are absorbed by the blood and corrupt it and so cause aches in remote parts of the body and the formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. General bodily weakness and loss of weight result. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and discomforts, such as dizziness, hot flashes, sleeplessness, irritableness and despondency originate from this source.

The experience of Miss Minerva C. Ladd of Ipswich, Mass., will prove helpful to many. She has just recovered from a stomach difficulty that made her wretched for many years. Miss Ladd says:

"I had a weak stomach from the time I was a little child. Whenever I took hearty food it would cause terrible faintness, and I would finally vomit what I had eaten. At times there would be the most intense pains through the upper part of my body. For days in succession I would have to lie down most of the time. If I got up quickly my head would feel so dizzy that I would have to sink back on my bed and rise again very slowly. The distress was often so great that I could hardly bear it, and the frequent and violent belching spells were very disagreeable, too.

"For many months I had a good physician who did what he could. He told me that not only the belching, but also the pains through my body, were caused by an excess of gas in my stomach. Sometimes his medicine gave me relief, but it was only temporary. Finally I began to lose flesh rapidly and it was thought I was going into consumption.

"At this time I read about a case similar to mine that had been cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a box. Within three weeks a decided improvement was noticeable. The belching spells were less frequent, the pains through my body were not so intense, my food was retained and after taking the pills for a few weeks longer I found that I was altogether free from the miseries I had so long suffered."

While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every dyspeptic should read, "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy.

MARSHALL HAS ANOTHER SCHEME

Coal Company Enjoined from Using the Name of a Prominent Eastern Concern.

GIVING FARMS WITH STOCK

Court of common pleas No. 2 has granted a perpetual injunction against the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., against using the name "Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company," bringing to light another operation of Arthur G. Marshall and Frank Dunbar, who are under indictment for the alleged embezzlement of the funds of the Duquesne Mutual, Lafayette Mutual and North American Mutual fire insurance companies. The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company, a well-known company of excellent business standing and having its principal offices in Philadelphia, brought the suit to restrain Marshall, Dunbar and others from using its name and trading on its credit. Attorneys Thomas H. Atherton and Shiras & Dickey represented the plaintiff company.

According to a circular issued by the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company of Pittsburgh, Marshall's concern, the company was incorporated in the District of Columbia with a capital stock of $400,000, the par value of the shares being $100 each. It is alleged Marshall and Dunbar, together with the other officers, were selling stock and giving away farms with each share purchased.

Names of Officers Given.

A circular issued by the company, whose offices were at 309 Fourth avenue, gives J. M. Buzzard, lumber and coal capitalist, as president; A. G. Marshall of Marshall & Co., brokers, vice president; Capt. C. H. Hayden, licensed coal and coke inspector, secretary, and Frank Dunbar of Hayden, Dunbar & Co., insurance, treasurer.

The proposition as told by a circular issued some time ago, one of which fell into the hands of the eastern company of the same name, reads:

> Why this proposition is attractive. Because we will sell you one share of stock in the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company (leaving "of Pittsburgh" off this part of the circular) for $25, and give you a deed to one acre of fruit or agricultural land free of charge. This land is located in Jefferson county, and a large portion of it can be farmed. It is well watered, and can also be used for poultry and stock raising. In order to be able to deed this land in small tracts, we are having the land surveyed and plotted in 10-acre lots, the title to which will be held by the Jefferson Real Estate Company of Pittsburgh, who will make the deed as the stock is sold.

Beauties of the Proposition.

The circular then goes on to state that the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company leases the mineral rights to 4,000 acres, and in deeding the land as a stock bonus, reserves the coal and mineral rights. The beauties of the coal are then described and an illustration of what 10 shares of stock will cost is given. It is explained that a discount of 10 per cent will be given for cash and that a foreign corporation cannot hold real estate in Pennsylvania, which makes it necessary to organize a holding company. A glowing description of railroad properties to the land and a report by C. H. Hayden, the licensed coal inspector, is appended. On the back page of the circular is a map showing the exact location.

When this circular fell into the hands of the eastern company it immediately took steps to protect its name, filing a bill in equity to enjoin the new corporation. How much stock was sold or what became of the money is not known. Attorneys Shiras & Dickey could not locate the local officers and served the new company's designated agent in Harrisburg. No answer was filed and a perpetual injunction was granted.

Piling Up New Evidence.

Attorney Frederick H. Kahle, who is appearing for a number of stockholders in the insolvent fire insurance companies, says new evidence is piling up against the accused. It is reported that Attorney Kahle will apply to the Dauphin county court for an order permitting the levying of assessments on the policy holders of the concerns for the purpose of meeting the losses, which are now estimated to exceed $38,000.

Mrs. Marshall, who accompanied her husband from New York, has asked the jail authorities to permit her to have a bed sent in to her husband. She is also sending him meals from a nearby restaurant.

Search for Frank Dunbar, who is also under indictment, will be continued. Marshall is said to have intimated that he will see that Dunbar is here to answer to the charges against him and to clear the names of those mentioned in the criminal prosecutions.

Sails for Australia.

L. L. Graham, formerly of 20 East Park way, Allegheny, sailed from San Francisco for Australia September 21, to take up work for James Stewart & Co., who have a large railroad building contract there. Mr. Graham, who is well known in engineering circles in this city and vicinity, has been connected at various times with the Pittsburgh Construction Co., Mellon Bros., Wabash railroad and other local employers. He secured his new position through Hapgoods, and was selected from a number of candidates for the place.

Increase in Death Rate.

There were 122 deaths in the city last week, as against 98 in the same week last year. Twelve died from typhoid fever, three each from scarlet fever and diphtheria, 10 from consumption, eight from pneumonia and 12 from violence. Fifty-six cases of typhoid fever, 26 of scarlet fever and 16 of diphtheria were reported. Seventeen cases of typhoid fever, three of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

SOTHERN PLAYS "SHYLOCK" ROLE

Famous Actor Takes the Part for First Time in His Career.

MISS MARLOWE IS "PORTIA"

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
CHARLES M. BREGG, Staff Correspondent.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21.—E. H. Sothern played "Shylock" tonight at the Euclid Avenue opera house for the first time in his career. In conjunction with Julia Marlowe the famous comedy was given with an opulence of stage appointments that has possibly never been rivaled in modern times. From the first scene to the end of the 13 magnificent settings the stage presented a series of pictures of Venice and Belmont that are so rich in beauty and so voluptuous in appeal to the eye as to be little short of astounding. It is this magnificence of appointments that distinguishes the Sothern production of the comedy. In text and in the arrangement of the scenes Mr. Sothern has shown that the skill of the stage manager in producing effects has been a dominant consideration. It is a Sothern arrangement of the play. There have been eliminations and changes, some of a most striking character. Everywhere the purpose has been to impress the eye. In no production of "The Merchant of Venice" within recent times has this been more successfully accomplished.

In interpretation this new Shylock is distinctly outside of tradition. If you adhere to the old style and the old methods you must be prepared for surprises. There is nowhere a lack of scholarship. It is rich in intellectual worth, but this high intelligence has been devoted to modernizing the arrangement as well as the spirit of the interpretation. Mr. Sothern's Shylock is one of progressive worth. In the first scenes it is a monotone of emotions, emphasizing the racial peculiarity, yet nowhere expressing broadly striking individuality of conception. In the early scenes there was a slight defect in enunciation that amounted almost to a dialect. As the work progresses the actor becomes more solidly identified with the part and concludes in the celebrated court scene with an impressive interpretation that marks his Shylock an one of more than ordinary worth.

Miss Julia Marlowe's Portia is a delight to the eye and a joy to the ear. In scope of intelligent understanding and in beauty of diction it is one of the chief beauties of a production whose chief glory is its beauty.

The minor roles are read with rare good sense and with almost colloquial naturalness.

PITTSBURGHERS IN WRECK.

Mr. and Mrs. Friedell Are Severely Bruised in Collision of Steamer With a Schooner.

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—The steamer Juniata of the Merchants' & Miners' Transportation Company, which arrived here this afternoon, reported that six of her passengers were injured during a collision last night with the schooner Harwood Palmer. The Juniata was rammed by the schooner, which raked her superstructure.

One of the state rooms wrecked was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Friedell of Pittsburgh. They were buried under the debris, but were rescued by a fellow-passenger, severely bruised.

Cured by a New Remedy.

50,000 BOXES FREE.

Deformity of the hands in general Chronic Articular Rheumatism.

While an invalid from Rheumatism, when nothing in the world would even relieve me, I succeeded in combining five harmless ingredients into a compound which completely cured me contrary to the predictions of my doctor. I then tried this remedy on my friends and neighbors suffering from rheumatism, also on hospital patients with such wonderful results that even prominent physicians had to admit that my remedy was a positive success.

Since then the remedy has cured hundreds of decrepit persons who could neither clothe nor feed themselves, among them persons of 70 and 80 years of age who had suffered more than 40 years. So positive am I what this remedy will do, that I have set aside 50,000 Boxes for free distribution so that other unfortunate sufferers may profit by my good luck. It is a wonderful remedy and there is no doubt that it will cure all cases given up by doctors and hospitals.

Remember that I ask you for no money, simply send your name and address for free trial box, and should you want more you can have it at a small cost. It is not my intention to accumulate a big fortune out of my discovery, but what I want is to relieve misery and torture. Address John A. Smith 2173 Gloria Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis. ## BEAUTIFUL MERMAID WILL SHOOT THE CHUTES AT LUNA

Dressed as a mermaid a beautiful young lady will shoot the chutes at Luna park on Pittsburgh Press club evening, Monday. She will dive from the end of the boat as it speeds through the lagoon, and with the searchlight playing on her will swim to the landing. All will have a good chance to see the graceful swimmer, and the one who correctly guesses her exact age, or comes nearest to it, will receive a handsome prize. Contestents for the "goosewalk" have entered from all parts of the city, Lawrenceville, Minersville, Elliott, Allegheny, Woods Run, Knoxville and many other places in the county.

SUIT FOR HEAVY DAMAGES FOLLOWS KNOXVILLE AFFRAY

Frank Schmitt, through Attorneys Hudson and Howley, yesterday entered suit for $30,000 damages against Frank T. Thompson and the latter's 15-year-old son, Frank Thompson, Jr. Schmitt tells of the assault alleged to have been made upon him at Charles street and Georgia avenue, Knoxville, Tuesday midnight, when, he says, the defendants repeatedly assaulted him, knocking him down, breaking his nose and shooting him through the left hand. At the time of the assault it was alleged that Thompson charged Schmitt with insulting Mrs. Thompson, which Schmitt indignantly denied.

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the Tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. A. Crotsley, 538 Washington St., Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'Tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these Tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctor said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

MRS. W. T. DETHLOPE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

HENRY KARIS,
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., N.Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full-sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

HIGHER CALL MONEY RATE HOLDS THE MARKET BACK

New York Stocks Were Strong at Opening—Local Stocks Make Good Advances, Crucible and Pittsburgh Coal Leading.

Yesterday's early stock market had an appearance of considerable strength and animation and special stocks made striking advances much in the manner of Wednesday's market. Some constraint developed in the later operations and the rate of activity fell away very materially. The markin up of the call money rate was the potential influence in this result.

Deals and rumors of deals played a large part in the principal movements of the day which were in stocks supposed to be in the hands of pools or susceptible readily to manipulation. Both Canadian Pacific and Reading were prominent features during the day. Publication of the Reading annual report proved the high earning power of that road, but it was obvious that previous operations in the stock were based on knowledge of the facts of the report. Louisville & Nashville also was brought into prominence. The question of the lodgment of control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton was settled by the official announcement that the Erie was the purchaser, but the Erie stocks were conspicuously exempt from the day's demand. Brooklyn Rapid Transit made better response to the reported acquisition of an independent street railroad in that city and Metropolitan Street Railway was benefitted by the news of the tunnel project in co-operation with New Jersey lines. The recent strength of New York, New Haven & Hartford found its explanation in the announced privilege of subscriptions to $30,000,000 of new convertible debentures. Rumor continued very active with the alleged project of a new issue of Great Northern preferred to the present stockholders, and St. Paul figured in a rumor of impending issue of $25,000,000 of authorized stock with subscription privileges to stockholders.

Many of the day's active movements are thus seen to be traceable to individual causes. The money market again demonstrated that its actual position is growing independent of the conditions of the clearing house banks. Rates for call money were firm and higher, although time loans were called somewhat easier, the demand for that kind of accommodation having subsided somewhat. Yet subtreasury operations this week have yielded to the banks over $1,000,000 compared with a loss for the corresponding period last week of $5,668,000, indicating an advantage in this week's showing of $7,000,000 over last week. The interior demand has also relaxed. This seems to indicate that the banks are relieved from the necessity of calling loans in order to keep within the reserve limit. It is assumed therefore that the hardening tone of money must have to do with the disposition of the trust companies' funds rather than with those of the banks.

The retention of the Bank of England rate was a favorable factor in the day's market, as it had been quite commonly expected that it would be advanced in order to shift New York demand for gold upon Paris. A renewed fall in foreign exchange here resulted, but the decline was not sufficient to reach the point of profit for further engagement of gold for import. Discounts rose in Berlin, but fell in Paris. The irregular tone of the later market continued up to the close.

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value, $3,335,000. United States 2s coupon declined ⅝ per cent on call.

With Pittsburgh Coal and Crucible Steel preferred issues as the special features, the Pittsburgh stock exchange enjoyed yesterday the most active and bullish day for months past. The total transactions footed up close to 7,000 shares of stock. Of this number 2,034 were Crucible preferred, the stock going to 67⅞, making an advance of 1¾. For the week the advance in this stock is 2⅞. The common also was active, 430 shares changing hands and the price rising ⅛ to 12¾. For the preferred 67⅞ is the year's high mark, 67 having been made in January.

In Pittsburgh Coal preferred the transactions amounted to 1,105 shares. The range in this stock was from 55 to 59 and the close was at 58⅛. There were but 20 shares of the common sold. The price was 15 an advance of ½.

In both of these companies the advance was credited to improved conditions, the forthcoming report being the cause of the Crucible spurt. The trading locally on Coal was started by the heavy dealings in New York. Finally the local market led the New York market in this stock.

All along the line there was the same stiffening of price. The market covered 21 industrial stocks and one bank stock. Of the 21 industrials 13 showed advances and five were unchanged, while only three—Consolidated Ice common, Lustre Mining and Tonopah Extension were lower. Manufacturers Light & Heat was up to 37½. Pittsburgh Plate Glass advanced one point to 120, ex-dividend; 1,150 shares of Tonopah were sold at 6.08 and U. S. Steel common as high as 37½. Westinghouse Electric Seconds went to 85. Colonial Trust was unchanged at $375.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The annual report of the Crucible Steel Company of America, to be published inside of the next two fortnights, is expected to solve the question of the cause of the activity of the Crucible issues. The "bull tip" on Crucible has been general for several months past, and is now having much effect. The information is all very similar, namely, that the company will show net earnings of about $2,250,000, some estimating $250,000 above and some below that figure.

The speculation upon the payment of a dividend reached the stage yesterday of a bid of $1 a share for the dividend upon 500 shares paid by February. It is the general expectation that the first distribution of earnings in more than two years will be made in January.

The talk on Pittsburgh Coal yesterday was that the season of the year has come when there is not only a larger demand for coal than at other seasons, but when annually the Pittsburgh railroads, as well as those which tap the entire bituminous region, can be counted upon to fall far short of the car requirements, and by the delay in shipments make demand at the selling points urgent enough to cause high prices. Back of this talk, which has been current for some time, was the buying in New York and the local market gave a ready response.

The National City bank has added $600,000 to its $400,000 gold engagement. The $1,750,000 Lazard Freres engagement remains unchanged. This makes $4,025,000 engaged since September 12, when the movement toward the United States set in.

The statement of earnings and expenses of the Baltimore & Ohio, exclusive of the controlled and affiliated lines, for the month of August, 1905, as compared with the corresponding month of 1904, shows: Gross earnings, 1905, $6,398,087; 1904, $5,870,352; increase, $527,735. Expenses, 1905, $3,969,015; 1904, $3,486,112; increase, $482,903. Net earnings, 1905, $2,429,072; 1904, $2,384,240; increase, $44,832.

For the two months ended August 31, compared with the same period of last year: Gross earnings, 1905, $12,166,916; 1904, $11,144,594; increase, $1,022,022. Expenses, 1905, $7,719,919; 1904, $6,911,769; increase, $808,150. Net earnings, 1905, $4,446,997; 1904, $4,233,125; increase, $213,872.

The lines included in this statement are the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company, Ohio River Railroad Company, West Virginia Short Line Railroad, Ripley & Mill Creek Valley railroad, Pittsburgh & Western Railroad Company, Pittsburgh, Painesville & Fairport railroad, Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Toledo railroad, and the Pittsburgh Junction railroad.

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., says that since he started on his campaign against the Gould control of the Wabash he has been denied access to the stock list of the company, although he is still president. Therefore he is unable to obtain a list of the stockholders to whom he could send for requests for proxies.

Whatever justification there may be for refusing access to stock lists in the case of irresponsible persons or individuals whose only known object is to wreck the corporation, there is surely no justification for refusing access to such a man as Mr. Ramsey, who has long been a director and officer of the road, and who, whatever else might possibly be said concerning his fight for control, could surely be depended upon to protect the interests of the company. What possible right has one director to bar another director from the books?

Mr. Ramsey has preferred not to contest the point, but it would be for the general public good if he would avail himself of this opportunity to establish the right of access to stock lists. The courts would uphold him. In large measure the question involves that of the rights of all stockholders in all corporations.—Wall Street Journal.

Wabash securities did not reflect any particular absorption by either faction to the contest for control. They were, however, firm most of the day, and the buying was declared to be of a good character. The popular view in the street now is that any bona fide owner can vote the certificates at the annual meeting, even though he may have bought them after the books closed on September 9. A report was current that the Gould faction now concedes this point.

Representatives of southern iron and steel companies say that the business outlook for the fourth quarter of this year and the first half of 1906, indicates orders beyond the capacity of the furnaces and finishing mills to supply.

August Ziesing, formerly western manager, yesterday succeeded A. T. Major as president of the American Bridge Company.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable October 16 to stock of record October 2. Books close October 2 and reopen October 18.

The Great Northern Paper Company, the principal competitor of the International Company, has paid an annual dividend of 3 per cent upon its $5,000,000 capital stock. It paid 2 per cent a year ago. The Great Northern produces 105,000 tons of news print per annum.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 2½ per cent on the first and second preferred and assenting stocks, payable October 10. Books close September 28 and reopen October 15.

The Iron City Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

The Provident Trust Company, Allegheny, has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

The annual report of the Reading Company for the year ending June 30 showed gross earnings of $80,561,127, an increase of $3,520,902; net earnings of $24,103,903, an increase of $2,304,099, and a surplus of $10,018,748, an increase of $2,961,210. In 1902 the surplus was only $3,278,887.

At auction in Philadelphia $1,000 city of Pittsburgh 4 per cent improvement bond of 1922 sold at 105½.

The Bar Iron association reaffirmed prices at yesterday's meeting.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR, BUT TONE IS STRONG

Market Shows No Signs of Weakness and No Evidence of Urgent Liquidation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Stocks were somewhat irregular yesterday and though closing under the best of the day, the underlying tone was strong. Activity was confined to special groups, as usual, and in instances some of these were marked up very sharply. Such movements, however, were certainly not attended by any general enthusiasm, and there were no signs of public participation in the market.

Speculative sentiment continued as much divided as ever. It was generally held that under the cover of the manipulated advances in some of the special issues a moderate distribution movement was in progress, but if so, this was conducted in masterful manner, for the market showed no signs of weakness, and no evidence of urgent liquidation. In fact, the absence of selling pressure and the scant supply of stocks, were points upon which the bullish element placed the greatest stress.

The failure of the Bank of England to increase its minimum discount rate was regarded as the most favorable feature of the day's news. On the other hand, the self-evident effort to depress call money rates was regarded as the most unfavorable development of the day. The rank and file among brokers dislike manipulation of this character, and to seek to depress call rates with firm time money and with commercial paper rates hardening was naturally viewed with suspicion.

The acquisition of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton property by the Erie road did not create any general enthusiasm, as it was realized that Erie's last report was poor, and that the property with the numerous syndicates was not acquired cheaply. The market was again filled with rumors, the chief of which was a revival of the St. Paul extension to the coast report. The rumors concerning the merger properties were again current, but lacked effectiveness in the market.

The towboats Tom Dodsworth No. 2, Valiant and Coal City are due to pass up with empties from Louisville for Pittsburgh. They took tows of coal through several days ago from Pittsburgh to the harbor at Grassy Flats, above Louisville. The boats will go as far up as possible and wait there for a rise, so that they can get into the Pittsburgh harbor and the upper river pools near the mines, where the empties can be loaded again for shipment south. ## MAKING NINE FOOT POOL.

Dam No. 2 at Merriman Being Raised Three Feet More.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4.2 feet and the river was stationary.

New wickets are being placed at dam No. 2 at Merriman, which will increase the depth in the pool there from six feet, as originally proposed for the new dams, to nine feet. When this dam is completed the Pittsburgh harbor will be extended to that point, with a nine-foot depth instead of the present one of six. The work is of great importance to rivermen. Within another year it is believed the nine-foot harbor will be extended to Beaver, by the completion of dams 3, 4 and 5.

Heavy fog has delayed river business this week. The Bessie Smith, the Parkersburg boat, was delayed so much on her trip down that she was unable to get back to this city this week and will miss one trip, returning here on her regular time next Monday. The Columbia, from Morgantown, did not get in until after noon yesterday, having been fog bound.

W. H. Crump, master of transportation of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal Company, has returned from a business trip to Cincinnati.

AUDITORIUM FOR THIRTEENTH WARD

Melwood Grove Company Buys a $25,000 Site and Will Build a $40,000 Hall.

EAST END SALE OF $25,000

The most interesting development in Thirteenth ward real estate that has been announced for some time is the project to build a large auditorium at the southwest corner of Atlantic avenue and Neville street. The Melwood Grove Company, recently organized with a capital of $40,000, is back of the scheme, and proposes to start work on the building soon, so that it may be ready for use by January 1. The company has bought from W. P. Beam an irregular-shaped lot, containing about 21,000 square feet, for $25,000. The building to be erected will cover practically the whole lot, and will be two stories high. A big dining-room, offices and kitchen will take up a good share of the first floor and the entire second floor will be taken up with a dancing pavilion. It is the intention of the promoters to finish and equip the building in first-class shape, and the structure when completed is expected to cost not less than $40,000. Its location near Luna park and only 300 feet from Center avenue makes it central to both the East End and the downtown districts, and it is in a section where it should command an excellent class of patronage. The members of the Melwood Grove Company are Edward M. Beben, W. T. Beane, James V. Colwell, John Slater and A. M. Brown. This will be the only building of its kind in that part of the city, and will supply a demand which has been poorly filled heretofore.

Buys Old McClintock Homestead.

John T. Morris, of the office of John A. Sharp, has sold for D. McKay Lloyd and others, executors of the estate of Mary E. McClintock, the old McClintock homestead on the south side of Penn avenue, near Dallas avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $25,000. In 1874 Mr. McClintock bought the property for $21,000 and occupied it for many years as a home, the later tenant being Mr. Lloyd. The property is a large one, having a frontage of 70 feet in Penn avenue and a depth of 300 feet to Meade street. The old 16-room stone and brick house that stands near the Penn avenue front is almost a landmark in that section and was formerly one of the finest homes near there. William Anderson, the builder, is the present buyer, his purchase having been made partly for a home. Mr. Anderson will remodel the house, extending the porches and making extensive interior alterations. On the Meade street end of the lot he will erect a three-story brick apartment house on a site 60x86.5 feet. This building will cost $40,000, and will contain six modern apartments of six rooms and bath each.

Two Allegheny Churches Sold.

The Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company, by its agent, Adam Hoffman, has sold two Allegheny churches. One is the Bethel Lutheran, a brick building on 45x110 feet, facing in Washington street, at the corner of Fulton street, Sixth ward, for which $12,000 was received. The Chartiers Street African Methodist Episcopal congregation is the buyer and will occupy the Bethel church next Sunday. The Chartiers street congregation has sold its property at 1720 Chartiers street, Sixth ward, through the same agency, for $2,160. The church is a frame building, which will be remodeled for flats.

Through the John K. Ewing Company, owner of the Union Realty Company, Patrick J. Walsh, the East End hotel man, has sold to J. I. Dillinger the property at 110 Frankstown avenue, near Station street, for $19,000 cash. The lot is 20x100 feet and has on it a three-story brick business house.

John Newell has disposed of the property at 2155-2157 Center avenue for about $15,000. A large two-story brick building covers nearly the entire lot, which is 40x176 feet. The first floor is used for stables and there is a large hall above.

Hump Corner to Be Improved.

The block at the corner of Fifth and Wylie avenues, which Robert and William A. Elsner bought two years ago, will be remodeled at a cost of $25,000. According to the plans drawn, one story will be added to the building and plate glass fronts will be put in on both streets. There will be two storerooms on the first floor, both of which have been leased through the Real Estate Trust Company. The corner room will be occupied by a high-grade millinery and ladies' goods establishment and the other room, which will front in both streets, will be a first-class delicatessen. The upper floors will be arranged for attorneys' offices. Steam heat and electric lights will be provided for the entire building, and it will be refinished in modern style.

Brieck Brothers of McKeesport have received from Architect Thomas J. Herron the fourth contract for new school houses in the Tube City. The last building arranged for will be a 12-room brick school house, to be erected in Versailles avenue, at a cost of $41,475. Two weeks ago Breick Brothers got the contracts from Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co. for a similar building in Grandview avenue, to cost $35,000; from Architects Robinson & Winkler for a similar building, to cost $36,000, and from Architect T. J. Lohman for a 12-room school house, to cost $44,000. All these figures are exclusive of the heating. The last three buildings mentioned are already started and no time will be lost in getting the Versailles avenue school house under way.

Sold More Than Half the Plan.

East Bellevue is becoming a veritable Mecca for lot buyers the last few days. Of the 723 lots in the plan which the Freehold Real Estate Company launched last week, over 400 have been sold already. These average in price from $400 to $600 for lots 40x150 feet in size. The fact that the property is only five minutes' ride from the business part of Bellevue and that it is on the new West View street car loop, which makes it easy to go to the city in either direction, is proving a strong magnet in the sale. Wednesday night the arc lights were turned on for the first time, giving the plan quite a metropolitan aspect. Besides the 10 $6,000 houses which are nearly finished, 14 purchasers have their plans nearly ready for residences to cost from $4,000 to $8,000 each.

In the absence of large sales nowadays the number of house sales being made is very noticeable. Brokers in every ward in the city, especially in the outlying wards, report a better inquiry for houses costing from $3,000 to $10,000 than they have had for months. More deals of this kind are being reported, too, than at any time since the spring market subsided, and there is apparently more of a disposition among buyers to take such properties for an investment as well as for homes.

Bloomfield Building and Loan association No. 4 is the rather striking title of a new organization that has just applied for a state charter. Its incorporators are Edward Weibel, A. B. Larned, John Thoma, J. W. Owens and J. B. Eichenlaub.

In keeping with the demand for good residence sites, the Burns and Reilly Real Estate Company will put on the market tomorrow an exceptionally fine plot in the First ward of Wilkinsburg. This property, adjoining the Singer plan, was recently acquired from J. C. Reilly, and is certain to prove attractive to buyers looking for high-class districts. Improvements to conform with the municipal regulations of Wilkinsburg are well under way. Investors are guaranteed paved streets, sewers, granolithic walks, etc. To give easy access to the plan the Land company has completed a fine granolithic approach from Singer place, which is within a minute's walk of both Frankstown and Hamilton avenue car lines. Excellent improvements on all the streets leading to the plot adds much to Centerone's attractiveness.

POTATOES SCARCE AND PRICE GOING UPWARD

Shortage of Crop Causes Firmness in Market—All Other Lines Are Steady.

There were no changes of note in the local market yesterday. Potatoes are very strong, selling in the yards at 60@65c a bushel, with prospects excellent for an advance. The shortage of the potato crop is becoming more apparent daily and there is every probability that prices will be higher before the end of the month.

Green goods and fruit were a fair sale yesterday, prices holding firm in all lines and sales being generous. Today is expected to prove a good one, as orders from out of town merchants show a decided improvement over last week.

The grocery market shows no change. Flour, sugar and coffee are weak, coffee being the stronger of the three. Flour is the weaker and will probably drop off again this week, as considerable shading is being indulged in as an inducement to buyers.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 9 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 7 cars corn, 2 cars straw, 4 cars feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars hay, 1 car corn. Lake Erie, 8 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car feed.

There was no change in the local markets. Business is holding up well. Oats are still advancing. Corn is scarce, as the new crop has not begun to move. Farmers are too busy at present to market their oats, which is rendering that commodity scarce.

THREATENED FAMINE INFLUENCES MARKET

Wheat Is Firm and December Delivery Advances Slightly. Oats Also Show Gain.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Allegations of threatened famine in Russia caused firmness today in the wheat market here. At the close wheat for December delivery was up ⅛c. Corn is practically unchanged. Oats show a gain of ⅛c. Provisions are a shade to 7½c higher.

Sentiment in the wheat pit was bullish the entire session. At the opening December was up ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c at 84⅝@84¾c. The advance was largely due to a sharp rise in price at Liverpool, ostensibly the result of reports to the effect that Russia is face to face with the worst famine which the czar's country has ever experienced. Indicative of existing conditions a cablegram from Moscow to a commission house here claimed that 40 per cent of the wheat exported from Russia this year has been reimported at Baltic ports. The market here was further strengthened by higher prices at Minneapolis, following a decreased movement in that section. For a time shorts here were quite active buyers. A leading bull also was reported as having bought considerable wheat, the greater portion of which was for May delivery. As a result the December option advanced in sympathy to 85¼c. Strength of cash wheat at all grain centers tended to encourage the purchase of futures here. During the last hour the market lost part of the strength that had developed, December selling off to 84⅝@84¾c. A report that the Spanish government had reimposed a duty on imports of wheat was partly responsible for the reaction. The market, however, closed quite firm, with December at 84⅝@84¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 263,500 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,014,000 bushels, compared with 1,152,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 734 cars, against 677 cars last week and 984 cars a year ago.

A firm tone prevailed in the corn market as a result of an active demand from commission and cash houses. Buying for foreign account was again a feature, a lot of corn being reported worked here for export via the gulf of Mexico. The close was firm. December opened unchaned to ⅛c higher at 45¼@45⅜c, sold up to 45½c, and closed at 45¼@45⅜c. Local receipts were 402 cars, with 180 of contract grade.

The market for oats was strong and active. Continued reports of good demand for export were responsible for much of the firmness. December opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c higher at 29@29⅛c, sold between 28⅞@29c and 29¼c, and closed at 28⅞@29c. Local receipts were 232 cars.

Provisions were steady, notwithstanding a 5-cent decline in the price of live hogs. Shorts were moderate bidders, but offerings were small. At the close January pork was up 7½c at $12 35. Lard was a shade higher at $6 77½@6 80. Ribs were up 5c at $6 47½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 52 cars; corn, 384 cars; oats, 234 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

The leading futures, as reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., Farmers bank building, Pittsburgh, members of the Chicago board of trade, ranged as follows:

KRUEGER DENIES WIFE'S CHARGES

Makes the Claim That She Is Trying to Ruin Him by Instituting Legal Proceedings.

FOX IS PURGED OF CONTEMPT

Alleging that his wife has for four years repeatedly harassed him by instituting legal proceedings against him upon false charges, upon which he was subsequently released by the courts, Oscar E. Krueger, who filed an answer to his wife's suit for divorce, also charges her with causing statements to be published to injure his standing in the community. He denies that he abandoned her or refuses to live with her, and asserts that he has continually supported her to the best of his ability. Krueger denies the charges of infidelity, either with the co-respondent or any other person, and denies that on August 24 and 25 he registered at an Atlantic City hotel as "O. E. Krueger, wife and child." He asserts that Mrs. Krueger told him she knew one charge of infidelity was false, but she intended to reiterate it in the Allegheny county courts for the purpose of ruining him and the co-respondent, against whom she cherished an ill feeling. Some technical objections are also made to the libel filed by Mrs. Krueger.

F. J. Fox, who was committed to the Allegheny County jail for contempt of court and fined $50 and costs by Judge McClung, for conducting himself with impropriety while upon the witness stand, was brought from the jail yesterday afternoon and discharged by the court after purging himself of contempt. Before the order of release was made Attorney H. J. Thomas presented the court with an affidavit made by Fox, in which he stated he had been drinking on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Just before being called to the witness stand he also had an altercation with a man, which ruffled his temper.

Maxwell on Trial.

Before Judge Macfarlane, David Maxwell was placed on trial, charged with criminally assaulting Gertrude Estella Meads, the nine-year-old daughter of James B. Meads of Oakmont. Maxwell is a well-known mechanical engineer and lives with his wife a few doors from the Meads' residence. The case is still on trial.

Mutcha Besenski, a Slav, was convicted of assaulting the eight-year-old daughter of Frank Sipperginski at Natrona, and was sentenced to four years to the penitentiary. The jury rendered its verdict without leaving the jury box.

Frederick Metzgar, the young Baldwin township farmer, was convicted of assaulting Mary Neeper, a 14-year-old girl, who claims Metzgar is the father of her baby. Metzgar was not sentenced.

Other cases before the court were: Charles Williams, felonious assault, two years to the penitentiary; William Jackson, burglary, two years to the workhouse; William Vandevere, larceny, six months to the workhouse; Louis Schultz, larceny, 30 days to the workhouse; Charles McGee, larceny, 10 days to the workhouse; "Bud" Whitley, assault and battery, 10 days to the workhouse.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the suit of Sophia Dales, administratrix of the estate of William Mathews, against the German Military association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The defendant admits Mathews was a member of the association and was in good standing at the time of his death, but denies that the death benefit of $750 was payable to his heirs or their legal representatives. The defendant avers that under the by-laws, rules and regulations of the association the death benefit of $750 was payable to the surviving widow of Mathews. She being the nearest relative living at his death, and upon due proof of death, had a right to receive the same. The $750 was therefore paid by the defendant to Catherine Mathews, the widow.

True Bills Returned.

Suit to recover $290 from Lewis H. and Alice H. Wenrich was entered by Frank C. Smith. Smith alleges he loaned Lewis Wenrich money to start in the butcher business in Wilkinsburg on condition that he would incur no other obligation, and that the promise was broken.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Max W. Herning, a merchant of McKees Rocks. He gives his assets as $4,000 and his liabilities as $4,385.64.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: Felonious assault, Tony Thomas, George Danyers et al.; entering a building, James Brown; larceny, Emma Feathers, John Adams, Fred Walsh, William H. Farnsworth; larceny by bailee, E. W. Alderman, Mike Cerecat; aggravated assault and battery, George E. Sherman; assault and battery, Joseph L. Campbell, Thomas Connors et al., J. J. Boyce et al.; selling liquor illegally, Mike Agelo, Stany Jagman; misdemeanor, Fred Taylor, Fred Zukel, George S. Hahn; perjury, Della McCann, Annie Taylor.

Executions issued—Huffman & Mallisee against T. McDaniel, $157.50; A. Stein against George Karangelen and Mrs. G. Karangelen, $429.75; J. H. Heald & Co., for use of C. A. Spenser, against Louis C. Holstein, $539.64; C. W. Keyler against Ida M. Plank and Allen S. Plank, $129.69; H. Hunneshagen against Charles Wagner, $397.50; Charles Warrlen, for use of William Yost, trustee of Fanny Handel, against Adam S. Brubaker, $3,400.

New Wells in the Lower Southwest Not Coming in With Regularity

Lower southwest operators are completing very few wells at this time. There is some talk of starting new work, but it will be at least two months before there will be any noticeable increase in completed work. Should operators put forth the necessary energy the first crop of wells started could be brought in before extreme cold weather sets in, when there is always more or less trouble in following up operations. On Ten Mile creek, in Ten Mile district, Harrison county, Judge Nathan Goff has completed his No. 42 on his own farm and has a show for a very light pumper in the Gordon. On Ann Moore run, Clark district, same county, the Clarksburg Light and Heat Company is due in the sand at a test on the John R. Stout farm. In the Wallace district, same county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 2 on the S. H. White farm is producing 30 barrels a day natural. There is very little new work starting in the Wallace district. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Michael Manion farm 40 feet into the stray and increased the gas pressure, but has develpoed no oil.

In advance of the Yellow creek field, in Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company has given its No. 2 on the G. W. Silcott farm a shot and it responded by producing 40 barrels the first 24 hours. There is considerable new work starting in the vicinity of this well and to the southwest in the direction of the old field. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn company has drilled No. 17 on the B. W. Peterson farm through the Gordon and will give it a shot. It will make a light pumper. In the Garner district, Marshall county, the South Penn company gave its No. 3 on the Margaret Hartley farm an 80-quart shot and it responded with a light flow. In the river front district, Wood county, Charles Sleepy is drilling a test on the U. S. Alleman farm. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, Wolfe & O'Brien have a test started on the Waite tract. In the same district G. N. Grow & Co. are starting No. 10 on the N. J. Coplin farm. This is shallow sand territory and a revival in field developments is expected. On Sugar creek, Meade district, Tyler county, Root & Duff Bros. are due in the sand at No. 3 on the Mary Ash farm. In Clay district, Ritchie county, Hall & Trees are drilling a test on the Nichols farm. Near Conway, McElroy district, Tyler county, the Tri-State Gas Company is drilling test wells on the F. W. White, James W. Booher and Albert Stoneking farms.

On the Ohio side, in the Marietta district, Washington county, P. J. Donnelly has completed his No. 14 on the Charles Reynolds farm and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the Macksburg 500-foot sand. In the lower edge of Muskingum county the Plainfield Oil and Gas Company's test on the T. Worlman farm is a duster. Borchers & Connor's test on the A. Osborn farm is not good for more than two barrels a day.

In the Burgettstown field, in Washington county, Pa., Kelly Bros. & Cooper have completed No. 4 on the R. C. Vance farm and will have an eight or ten-barrel pumper. In the Georgetown district, Beaver county, the Home Oil Company has completed its test on the Robert Hunter farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. In the Murdocksville district, the Crescent Oil and Gas Company's test on the J. Wyke farm is a gasser.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Charles M. Schwab denies the report that he contemplates heading a syndicate of capitalists organized for the purpose of securing control of the more important mines in the Goldfield district for the purpose of bringing them into the control of one corporation.

Ore shipments over the Tonopah railroad last week were 1,414 tons, as follows: From Tonopah company, 630 tons; Tonopah Extension, 340 tons; Montana-Tonopah, 140 tons; Belmont, 65 tons; Midway, 61 tons; North Star, 30 tons; Columbus Sampling Company, 91 tons; Combination, 28 tons; Quartzite, 29 tons.

It is reported that Henry Bratnober, a mining expert, has discovered at the head waters of the Nebesna, White and Tanana rivers, Alaska, what is declared to be the world's greatest copper district. The report says that copper is so abundant that it can be mined and transported 230 miles by rail to Valdez and smeltered at a probable cost of 5 cents or 6 cents a pound, or about half of the present average cost of producing copper. The ore is of the same character as Lake Superior copper and is found in bands of green stone in shot-like shape and often carrying 10 to 30 per cent copper.

The first railroad train which pulled into Goldfield was received with open arms. The town went wild with joy. Switches and a Y have now been built and everything is in readiness for the three days' celebration beginning today.

Reports reaching Goldfield from Bullfrog indicate that that camp is also up and doing. Few shipments have come out of there, but it is universally admitted that the ore is there and the time is not far distant when means will be provided to make shipments. It is quite generally conceded that the new road just into Goldfield will build on to the southern camp.

A Boston special says that a new hoisting plant has been ordered for North Butte, and when installed the output will be double the present capacity. Fully 1,100 tons will then be shipped daily to the smelters and earnings will then be at the rate of $6,000,000 per rate, or 100 per cent on the capital. A large interest is quoted as saying that the mine has five years ahead blocked out in ore reserves.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Spot tin was unchanged at £146 in London, while futures were a shade lower at £145. Locally the market was steady and a shade higher owing to light offerings. Spot closed at $31 82½@32 12½. Copper was higher in London, closing at £69 17s 6d for spot and £69 12s 6d for futures. Locally the market was nominally unchanged, with lake and electrolytic quoted at $16 00@16 25, and casting at $15 75@16 00. # FOURTH CAR FOR EIGHTEEN-HOUR FLYER

Popular Demand Calls for Enlarging Pennsylvania Special. New Service on B. & O.

DATE OF P. R. R. INSPECTION

Popularity of the Pennsylvania special, the 18-hour train between New York and Chicago, is shown by the company being required to add an extra car to the train to care for the growing patronage. A car has been added to each train, now making a four-car train instead of a three, as was the intention. The cars will be continued as long as there is a demand for them.

Ever since the train has been running it has been well patronized, but with the middle of September came such an increase of travel on the Pennsylvania special, the Pennsylvania limited and the New York and St. Louis limited trains that it was thought best to add the car if the demand continued. This was done first on Tuesday. All of the space was booked by the ticket and passenger agents, and thus it continued Wednesday and yesterday. The cars added were a part of the equipment recently provided for this luxurious train by the Pullman company. On a portion of the run at the eastern and western ends there are five cars, the dining car being added.

In this connection it is also interesting to note that the Baltimore & Ohio is improving its service from here to Parkersburg by adding a Pullman to its afternoon train down to Parkersburg and its morning train up from that city. It is on the train that leaves Pittsburgh at 4:30 o'clock p. m. daily and arrives here from Parkersburg at 11:30 o'clock a. m. daily. It is probable that this will be but the beginning of a great improvement in the service of the Baltimore & Ohio from here to Parkersburg and Kenova over the Ohio River division.

Mr. Ford Holds Family Meeting.

E. A. Ford, passenger traffic manager of the Pennsylvania lines west, had a family meeting of the "children and grandchildren" of the Pennsylvania lines' passenger department yesterday in his office in the Union station. The sessions were closed to outsiders, although the out-of-town officers circulated at leisure hours among the other passenger men and business friends in the city. Matters of especial interest to the Pennsylvania lines' passenger department in caring for the ever-growing traffic were considered, and the winter's campaign in the territory covered was outlined.

Those present in addition to Mr. Ford included General Passenger Agent Samuel Moody, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent Frank Van Dusen, Manager Advertising Bureau F. R. Esheiman and District Passenger Agent J. K. Dillon, of Pittsburgh; Assistant General Passenger Agent C. L. Kimball of Chicago, District Passenger Agent J. B. Modissette of Cleveland, Assistant General Passenger Agent George W. Weedon of Cincinnati, General Passenger Agent J. M. Chesbrough of St. Louis, Assistant General Passenger Agent W. W. Richardson of Indianapolis, District Passenger Agent L. B. Freeman of Columbus, District Passenger Agent C. H. Hagerty of Louisville, District Passenger Agent C. C. Haines of Cincinnati, and General Agent H. A. Buck of the passenger department of San Francisco. Mr. Buck was escorted about the city by City Passenger Agent Raymond B. Jones. This is his first visit to Pittsburgh. He will take a daylight ride over the Pennsylvania railroad from here to Philadelphia today.

Getting Ready for Mr. Atterbury.

While the supervisors and their section forces endeavor to have the Pennsylvania main line trackage in the best of shape at all times, there is an especially important dressing up of the roadbed and trackage for the inspection that is made annually by the general manager and his staff. This inspection will be made by General Manager W. W. Atterbury and the other officers on October 10 and 11 this year, and will include the three divisions of the main line between here and Philadelphia. Over each of the divisions the party will be accompanied by the division officers, and the supervisors will ride over the sections under their care. Each year prizes are awarded for the best sections of trackage, and the prizes depend largely on the condition in which the track is found on the general manager's inspection.

The date of the inspection of the Pennsylvania lines west by General Manager G. L. Peck and his staff has not been announced, but it is probable that this also will occur in October. The annual inspection of the Baltimore & Ohio will also probably be made next month by President Oscar G. Murray and the general officers.

Veteran Clerk Touring the West.

William B. Quartz of Crafton, one of the oldest and best-known clerks in the office of the auditor of freight receipts of the Pennsylvania lines west, has been granted six weeks' vacation for the benefit of his health and in consideration of his long-continued service with the Pennsylvania lines. Mr. Quartz, accompanied by his wife, started last night provided with passes over the various railway lines over which he intends to travel, and expects to visit before his return all the points of interest in the far west, including Chicago, Denver, Hood River, Portland, San Francisco and Albuquerque.

Mr. Quartz entered the service of the Pennsylvania lines January 23, 1872, and has therefore well earned this six weeks' intermission in his life's work, he having served his company for over 33 years. His friends wish him a pleasant trip, restored health and a safe return to them and the company he has served so long and so well.

Pennsylvania System Relief Reports.

The sixteenth annual report of the voluntary relief department of the Pennsylvania lines west shows total receipts of $562,612 84. The sum of $402,589 60 was paid out for death and disablement benefits, leaving a balance of $160,033 24 at the close of the year on June 30, 1905. From this amount must be deducted the unpaid benefits and the unadjusted and contingent liabilities, after which there will be a surplus of about $88,180.

The monthly report of the employes relief fund of the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for August shows that benefits were paid to the amount of $102,046 31, of which amount $33,545 66 was paid in death benefits and $68,490 65 on account of disablement by sickness or accident. The fund's payments thus far amount to $13,883,796 07.

Asking Bids on Glenwood Saw Mill.

Engineer Maintenance of Way H. H. Temple of the Pittsburgh system of the Baltimore & Ohio is asking for bids for the construction of a timber mill to be built at Glenwood to care for the timbers needed in the shops at Glenwood and Allegheny, with probably some work to be done for the shops at New Castle and Connellsville. Heretofore this work has been cared for mainly from outside sources, with a small amount of work done by a little saw mill in connection with the Glenwood shops. The mill will be 55x200 feet in size, and will be built just east of the erecting shop at Glenwood. It will be fitted with the latest type of machinery for sawing and planing and will care for practically all of the wood working in connection with the shop repair work.

P. R. R. Agents Discuss Traffic.

The agents of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad met at the Hotel Henry Wednesday morning and afternoon in bimonthly session with Superintendent S. C. Long and the other division officers. Superintendent Long presided at the meeting and several topics of interest in the handling of freight, billing, etc., were discussed. The meeting was well attended, almost every agent of the division being present. District Freight Solicitor V. C. Williams represented the traffic department. One of the subjects before the agents was that of how much time an agent should devote to soliciting business for his company in his locality.

Railroad Notes.

R. E. McCarty, general superintendent of the Panhandle, was here from Columbus conferring with general officers of the Pennsylvania lines west.

The week-end excursions of the Pennsylvania lines to Erie, Ashtabula and North East will be conducted from here as usual over the coming Sunday and the Sunday following. The week-end excursion rate to Conneaut Lake has been withdrawn.

E. A. Robison, general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will spend a few days hunting in Canada, leaving next week, and will afterward go to Mexico to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents.

The division officers of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio completed their inspection of bridges, track and structures for the 1906 program yesterday. The narrow gauge was not included, and it is probable that this will be made a standard gauge next year.

Frank A. Durban, president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railway, division counsel for the Baltimore & Ohio's Newark division and a director of and solicitor for the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley railroad, was yesterday elected president of the Ann Arbor railroad, as successor to Joseph Ramsey, Jr., who resigned last June.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

MINERS CLAIM THEY ARE SERIOUS IN NEW DEMAND

Alleged Statement of President Baer Leads the Miner Officials to Define Their Position.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 21.—As President Mitchell has declined to say anything in reply to the reported statement of President Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading that the anthracite mine workers would not be granted an eight-hour day, the miners' officials in this vicinity declined to be quoted. One of them in discussing the assertion today said:

"The miners of the soft coal regions work only that number of hours, and why should we who have to experience the same amount of danger, if not more, who have to work as hard, if not harder, not be entitled to the same privileges, the same rights and the same concessions as they? Do you think we do not read the reports of the coal companies? Compare them with the reports of the soft coal companies. And what will you find? That there are but few corporations earning more money than the anthracite coal companies.

"How do they make it? Through our efforts. The operators claim that we are not serious in making the demand, that it is only a ruse to increase the efficiency of the organization, but I want to assure you that the mine workers were never more serious in their lives. And mark you that the demand will be made, and it will be couched in language so strong that there will be no mistaking its import."

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The inquest into the wreck near here on the Western New York & Philadelphia railroad September 7, which resulted in two deaths and many injuries, was finished this evening with a finding that the wreck was due to Engineer Popham's watch being slow, and said: "We further find that the orders by which trains were that day operated on the Western New York & Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania Company, were inadequate for the protection of the lives of passengers and employes."

PRISONER COMMITS SUICIDE IN JAIL

PROMINENT WOMAN ASKS THE COURT FOR A DIVORCE

Former Mayor Fritchey of Harrisburg is Defendant in an Interesting Suit.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Mary A. Z. Fritchey has made application to the Dauphin county courts for a divorce from her husband, Dr. John A. Fritchey, three times mayor of Harrisburg and the one-time Democratic boss of Dauphin county. Mrs. Fritchey has filed a brief statement in which she alleges "cruel and barbarous treatment, endangering of her life and such other indignities to her as to render her present condition intolerable and thereby force her to withdraw from his house and family."

The writ is made returnable October 23. As divorce court is set for October 7 the hearing in the case will not be held until next term. There is much interest in the suit here on account of the prominence of the principals. An effort was made to suppress news of the action, the papers in the prothonotary's office having been marked "please do not publish."

Dr. Fritchey was married to Mary A. Z. Zimmerman of Harrisburg on November 14, 1898, at Lebanon, Pa., while he was mayor. Dr. Fritchey resided then with his sisters on North Third street. Shortly after he erected a handsome mansion on North Second street and has since been living there with his wife. They lived stylishly and were frequently seen together in the doctor's big automobile, both being devotees of the sport. They have no children.
